

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

THE CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS
DURING THE MIDDLE AGES.

PUBLISHED BY THE AUTHORITY OF HER MAJESTY'S TREASURY, UNDER THE DIRECTION OF THE MASTER OF THE ROLLS.

ON the 26th of January 1857, the Master of the Rolls submitted to the Treasury a proposal for the publication of materials for the History of this Country from the Invasion of the Romans to the reign of Henry VIII.

The Master of the Rolls suggested that these materials should be selected for publication under competent editors without reference to periodical or chronological arrangement, without mutilation or abridgment, preference being given, in the first instance, to such materials as were most scarce and valuable.

He proposed that each chronicle or historical document to be edited should be treated in the same way as if the editor were engaged on an Editio Princeps; and for this purpose the most correct text should be formed from an accurate collation of the best MSS.

To render the work more generally useful, the Master of the Rolls suggested that the editor should give an account of the MSS. employed by him, of their age and their peculiarities; that he should add to the work a brief account of the life and times of the author, and any remarks necessary to explain the chronology; but no other note or comment was to be allowed, except what might be necessary to establish the correctness of the text.

The works to be published in octavo, separately, as they were finished ; the whole responsibility of the task resting upon the editors, who were to be chosen by the Master of the Rolls with the sanction of the Treasury.

The Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, after a careful consideration of the subject, expressed their opinion in a Treasury Minute, dated February 9, 1857, that the plan recommended by the Master of the Rolls "was well calculated for the accomplishment of this important national object, in an effectual and satisfactory manner, within a reasonable time, and provided proper attention be paid to economy, in making the detailed arrangements, without unnecessary expense."

They expressed their approbation of the proposal that each Chronicle and historical document should be edited in such a manner as to represent with all possible correctness the text of each writer, derived from a collation of the best MSS., and that no notes should be added, except such as were illustrative of the various readings. They suggested, however, that the preface to each work should contain, in addition to the particulars proposed by the Master of the Rolls, a biographical account of the author, so far as authentic materials existed for that purpose, and an estimate of his historical credibility and value.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for transparency and accountability, particularly in the context of public administration and financial management. The text outlines various methods and tools that can be used to ensure the integrity and reliability of the data collected.

2. The second part of the document focuses on the challenges and solutions related to data management and security. It highlights the need for robust security protocols to protect sensitive information from unauthorized access and data breaches. The author suggests implementing a multi-layered security approach, including encryption, access controls, and regular security audits, to mitigate these risks.

3. The third part of the document addresses the issue of data privacy and the rights of individuals. It discusses the legal and ethical implications of data collection and processing, and provides guidance on how to ensure compliance with relevant regulations. The text stresses the importance of obtaining informed consent from individuals and providing them with clear information about how their data will be used.

4. The fourth part of the document explores the role of technology in improving data management and analysis. It discusses the benefits of using advanced data analytics tools and platforms to gain insights from large volumes of data. The author also mentions the importance of investing in training and development to ensure that staff are equipped with the necessary skills to effectively use these technologies.

5. The fifth part of the document concludes with a summary of the key findings and recommendations. It reiterates the importance of a holistic approach to data management, one that considers not only the technical aspects but also the human and organizational factors. The author encourages organizations to adopt a data-driven culture and to continuously monitor and improve their data management practices.

Quare dicta occasione dictam electionem suscepimus; Nuncque ad Beatitudinem tuam venimus, ut hoc divinum opus cum celeritate perfici debeat. Sciat enim et noscat Beatitudo tua, si in præsentiarum res non perficietur, cum multi ex nostris in Constantinopolim collecti sint et expectent, facile materia destituetur, et in desperationem deveniet neque per amplius eam aliquis tractare poterit. Quamobrem tuam deprecamur Sanctitatem, sacrumque Collegium prædictum, omnique cum instantia eandem et dictum Collegium hortamur et requirimus per viscera misericordiæ Domini nostri Ihesu Christi, Cujus res agitur, ut electionem prædictam, per decretum factam, acceptetis et confirmetis, ac rem ipsam juxta compactata perficiatis, neque opus periclitari permittatis; quodque alius perficiat, quod tamen vobis exceptis impossibile existimamus. Suscipite igitur tu, beatissime pater, ac vos reverendissimi domini, hanc coronam, quam vobis Dominus juxta Ipsius mentem largitus est. Quod si non feceritis, omni cum reverentia protestamur apud Deum et homines, quod ex parte ecclesiæ nostræ orientalis, quæ jam parata est, res ipsa non deficit, nec etiam sui ex parte juxta compactata deficiet.

Beatissime Pater, devota recommendatione premissa ad pedum oscula beatorum. Ab initio Basiliensis Concilii sperabant principes et populi Christiani, quod per patres dicti Concilii, quemadmodum suis tunc literis promittere videbantur, errores quidem et haerese, quibus plerisque in locis infertur grex Christi, a vinea Ecclesiae eradicari et abici; pravique mores, universum corpus Ecclesiae multiformiter deformantes, reformari et corrigi; pax insuper et concordia inter principes et potentes confici debuissent. Sed heus! sub hac pendula spe nostra quid horum omnium, tot annis ab hoc inito jam diu Concilio, secutum vidimus! Magisne, pro dolor! omnia pene in adversum ire, et mala quaeque jam per amplius invaluisse palam conspicimus, imo conspicit totus mundus, et pollicitam expectantibus pacem intonuit jam deus discriminos nimis et lugenda turbatio! Non sumus in memores quanta dudum fuerit, paulo post dicti ingressum Concilium, inter patres eynadem Sanctitatemque vestram suscitata commotio; ad ejus tunc pacificationem, uti decuit, et literis et nuntiis egimus partes nostras. Nunc vero de recenti, quod dolenter referimus, acriter longe flamma accensa est. Pervenit siquidem in orbis terrarum publicam notionem rigidum illud et peracerbum nimis monitorium, quod patres et quidam ceteri in Basilea relictis, qui utinam ad scissuram Ecclesiae studia non convertant, contra Sanctitatem vestram et reverendissimos patres Cardinales tunc absentes; dissuadentibus

Benedicimus igitur Deum cœli, et coram omnibus viventibus confitemur Illi, quia fecit nobiscum misericordiam suam; quod hujusce sanctæ unionis confectionem in nostra usque sæcula fecerit reservari. O vere beatum Pontificem, omnibus ex nunc sæculis immortalis gloria laudeque donandum; cujus solerti industria et sancta desudatione hoc magnificentum et summe gloriosum opus reductionis Græcorum, apud priscos majoresque nostros pene insperatum, sancto jam et posteris omnibus recolendo fine conclusum est; et vetus illud schisma² inter orientalem et occidentalem Ecclesiam, quod ipsa temporis diuturnitate ita viribus increvisse et obduruisse jam visum est, ut vix arte aliqua vel medicina aboleri posse putaretur, novissime in persona Sanctitatis vestræ medicum salutis invenit! O nova felicissima, ab omnibus ubique populis Christianis summa alacritate et devotione amplectenda et maximi facienda; quibus a primis nascentis Ecclesiæ cunabulis haud gratiora præclariorave aliqua, si universa legantur annalia credimus evenisse! Et tamen in his¹ terminis quamquam felicissimis nequaquam substituram fore Beatitudinem vestram satis sperare possumus: verum fausta hæc et gratiosa principia amplioris longe in nos Dei beneficentiæ fida nobis pronostica dici possunt.  Aurelianensis pro procuranda pace laborare posset, regia Majestas ipsius elargitioni, sub certis modis et Papæ, contra durum et rigidum processum Basiliensium, non consiliis sed nec precibus Regum et principum adquiescentium. Windsor Castle, May 28, A. D. 1440.

Timor quem ab olim timuimus, beatissime pater, jam pro¹ dolor! evenit, et quod verebatur accidit; dum Basilienses viri pacis loco, quam toti mundo conficiendam sponderant, in publicam Christianorum omnium perturbationem, maximum et perniciosissimum hoc scissuræ incendium paraverunt. Heus, beatissime pater, cœtus iste duræ cervicis est! Meminimus quidem tres ferme jam anni sunt, cum videremus quod ipsi per vias non bonas eo tenderent, imo currebant, quo progressi nunc sunt, quantum possibile nobis erat exactissime atque diligentissime, tum literis tum nuntiis dissuasimus eis periculosos et terribiles motus suos; eos quoque ab immiti et procelloso tunc inchoato processu ut desisterent, ac ab omni via mala prohiberent pedes suos, jugiter dehortati sumus. Et tam præcelebris memoriæ Sigismundum, eo tunc Imperatorem Romanum, quam ceteros orbis terrarum principes et prælatos, ut in idipsum gloriosas sane et sanctas operas suas accommodarent, nostris et apicibus et oratoribus solícite adhortari curavimus; quemadmodum in literis nostris, vestræ desuper Beatitudini missis, plenius annotatum est. Verum hi² ferrei viri ne nostris quidem, sed nec regum, principum, prælatorum, salutaribus monitis, consiliis, hortamentis, precibus, adquiescere aut aures inclinare curantes, spretis et abjectis omnibus, se inexorabiles reddidere, et licentiæ freno laxantes in omnem impetum voluntatis, motus suos voluntarios dumtaxat duxerant insequendos: quantoque amplius vel oratione vel prece pulsati

F. 136. b.

Sacrosanctam synodum Basiliensem, præclarissimi viri, indies augeri multipliciter, virisque virtutum et scientiarum dotibus insignitis assidue fœcundari, in Domino lætantes agnoscimus: spes nostras apud clementiam Salvatoris recondentes affixas, ut Suae plebis desolationum, proh dolor! notissimarum aliquando miserta, pestiferas insurgentes undequaque ruinas sacræ hujus conventionis evellat saluberrima provisio. Nusquam enim adversus fidei orthodoxæ et ecclesiasticæ doctrinæ veritatem depravantium sectas adversas pacto quolibet extirpandas intueri valemus; neque discidia regnorum quæsita dudum concordia valide solidari; seu depravatos mores ad viam dirigi rationis; nisi sacra hujus celebris conventionis, quæ militantis Ecclesiæ typum gerit et Christi vices exercet, Paracliti in ea præsentis directione intervenerit auctoritas. In conformem tendentes siquidem sententiam universorum Christicularum, regionum principes et prælati, ceterique ecclesiastici et sæculares, qui conciliis generalibus per se suosve oratores interesse consueverunt, a singulis orbis partibus ad ipsam confluunt celebrem in civitate Basiliensi congregationem; suarum regionum excessus,

They hope that the Council will remedy the evils of the Church.

General confluence to the Council.

¹ That this letter is addressed to a University is clear from internal evidence, and to a University within the then jurisdiction of the English crown. It was therefore, probably, the University of Oxford. This conjecture is placed beyond all reasonable doubt by the fact, that the University of Oxford, in a letter to the Convocation of Canterbury, cited by Antony à Wood (Hist. et Ant. lib. i., p. 213), mention the fact of their having received such a letter as this from the University of Paris. The only difficulty is that the letter is cited by Wood under the date 1430, two years, i.e., before the date of this letter. See the explanation of this difficulty in the Appendix of Documents.

calamitates, divisiones, et ruinas curantes prorsus evellere, celebrique conclusione ipsius Concilii generalis perducere ad viam pacis, rationis, et veritatis. Tanta autem ex nunc operari visa est Divinitas, ut in ipsa Basiliensi civitate maxima praelatorum, principum, et ceterorum ecclesiasticorum, per se aut suos speciales legatos, convenerit multitudo; quibus pariter advenientibus Romanorum Rex invictissimus custodem præbuit, illustrem Guillelmum in Bavaria ducem ad id specialiter atque personaliter ordinatum; cujus Regis serenissimi, Ecclesiæ protectoris, præsentia illuc continuo præstolatur, cum ceteris principibus et prælatis partium Italiæ, Germaniæ, ac Poloniæ, ducibusque Mediolanensi et Sabaudia, cumque plurimis principibus catholicis, veluti per literas ejusdem sacri Concilii et ipsius invictissimi Regis pluries suscepimus. Fuerunt insuper evocati solemniter dominus noster Eugenius, summus pontifex, et reverendissimi patres Romanæ Curie domini Cardinales, eidem celeriter assistere Synodo sacrosanctæ; veluti per alterum originale ipsius evocationis sub ejusdem sacri Concilii sigillo transmissum nobis constitit; cujus vobis copiam una cum præsentibus destinamus. Et jam materiæ utiles et arduissimæ in eodem sacro Concilio assidue agitantur, universam plebis catholicæ concernentes salutem. Cum igitur in vestra Universitate clarissima virorum abundet copia, literis et virtutibus fulgidorum, et vestra plurimum intersit fidei Ecclesiæ et salutis Christianæ plebis consulere; unaque nobiscum nomen Christianissimum domini nostri Regis Franciæ et Angliæ, nedum extollere, sed pariter ab omni prorsus labe, desidia, et torpore pro viribus continere illæsum; vestras idcirco caritates sedula deposcimus intentione exoratas haberi, easdem nihilominus¹ in Christi visceribus obnixè flagitantes, quatinus, omni dilatione seclusa, per vestros electis-

Neque auditum præbeant catholici viri quibusdam perversis suasionibus, quas, veluti suscepimus, quidam subdoli in medium afferre non verentur; falso asserentes, Concilium ipsum sacrosanctum dilationem subisse, aut translationem loci vel temporis: quoniam et hæc frivola esse cognoscimus, et inimico homine procurante, eadem a malivolis credimus pullulasse. Quamquam enim quædam bulla penitus subrepticia super hoc emanasse dicatur, in contrarium tamen determinatio solidissima processit mantenentiæ Concilii ejusdem, absque quacumque prorogatione; quæ verius nominanda erat dissolutio. Constantes itaque in tanti operis salubri consummatione operas pariter et labores studeant impartiri clarissimæ vestræ providissimæque discretionis; Quas ad easdem fidei exaltationem, Ecclesiæ sanctæ quietem et universalem salutem, dirigat, solidet, et Sua infusione confirmet Spiritus almus. Ærumnosam¹ afflictionem Ecclesiæ, Princeps illustris, non sine lacrimis et singultibus ex intimis præcordiis erumpentibus aspiciamus indies magis magisque assurgere. Hinc enim crudelium tyrannorum ferocitas fidelium sitiens cruorem effundere non cessat: Illinc quoque hæreticæ infidelitatis virus sensim membra Ecclesiæ tabefacit: Istinc inter degentes sub habitu et nomine Christiano corrupti mores reprobique pene universum Ecclesiæ corpus deformant. Quis fidelium tam ferreum pectus habeat qui in tantis anxietatibus Ecclesiam positam aspiciens eidem afflictæ non compatiatur? Aut quis religionis Christianæ zelator usque adeo cor lapideum gerat, cernens Sponsam Christi turpiter dehonestatam per varia illius membra, qui non duritiam frangat animi in tantis incommodis et eidem condoleat? Nos igitur pro nostra vocatione tantis perturbationibus remedia cupientes ex totis præcordiis adhiberi, digesto consilio et deliberatione diuturna, decrevimus per universum orbem Christianitatis epistolas exhortatorias transmittere, ac ambassiatores nostros et nuntios, venerabiles et circumspectos viros, magistros Robertum Piri, Jacobum Texoris, Nicholaum Nudy, sacre theologiæ eximios professores, et Philippum de Franchellanis, decretorum doctorem, ad partes Germaniæ destinare diligenter instructos; qui nostra ex parte coram serenissimi Regis Romanorum semper Augusti imperatoria celsitudine ceterisque principibus ac prælatis et com-

Dum olim, post mortem felicitis¹ recordationis Gregorii Papæ xj^{mi}, conturbari cœpisset, dumque disturbed by the schism. schisma² perniciosissimum, monstrum horrendum ingens, in eadem ecclesia suboriri cerneretur, ex causis toto orbe notissimis; Christianissimus tunc ac præclarissimæ memoriæ progenitor noster Karolus quintus, suasionibus multis vehementibusque rationibus deliberavit adhaerere obedientiamque præstare illi quem Collegium Cardinalium jurejurando asseruit in vita et in morte, atque publicavit se canonicè in summum pontificem et verum Christi vicarium sponte et concorditer elegisse. Arbitrabatur namque verisimiliter idem progenitor noster, ut erat totus fervens in zelo domus Dei, et ex sua fide pia alios dijudicans, quod ceteri principes ac prælati cum universo clero et populo protinus obedirent consimiliter, dum electionem hujusmodi per Collegium præfatum Cardinalium sufficienter eis innotesceret rite fuisse celebratam. Sed aliter evenisse dudum jam deploramus. Neque enim potuerunt usque hodie dicti Cardinales hoc ipsum suadere magnæ parti Christianitatis quod volebant, quodque memorato progenitori nostro suaserant. Nos idcirco cernentes, experientia temporeque doctibus, quod hæc obedientia præstita invalida erat ad tollendum funditus schisma² pestiferum, quod in exilium gravissimum pacem desideratissimam ac optimam detruserat, deliberavimus eandem pacem ad proprium cubile suum, quod est Ecclesia, velut ad suam regionem, per alias vias totis conatuum viribus reducere. Hinc consilia crebra, hinc legationes laboriosissimæ ac sumptuosissimæ, per omnes pene Christianitatis regiones frequentatæ sunt. Tandem, aspirante Deo, via cessionis utriusque contendentium, pro reversione pacis turpiter exulantis, inventa est; compendiosior et absque dubitatione expedientior judicata. Karolus, Dei gratia Francorum Rex, universis zelum fidei catholicæ gerentibus: Salus vobis in Domino nostro Ihesu Christo. Ab inclitis nostræ stirpis auctoribus accepimus, orthodoxæ fidei vires humilitatis in cunabulis maxime coalescere, ac longe firmioribus radicibus subsistere, si in quibusque dubiis spiritualium ac sanctorum patrum expectetur determinatio. Sic Cæsares Arrianorum temporibus, ubi sanctorum et universalium conciliorum ordinata non prævenerunt, sed sunt humiliter secuti, labem nullam contraxere. Nostri quoque progenitores in profligandis extirpandisque radicibus hæresibus, summorum pontificum et sacrarum synodorum sic sunt imitati decreta, ut eos Christianissimos ac pugiles fidei summi præsules appellaverint. Unde nostræ menti indelebilis successit affectus hoc sanctissimum nomen a prædecessoribus nostris nobis partum, ab ecclesia sancta Romanisque pontificibus miro modo derivatum, et nostro regno multiplicibus causis ascriptum, sic tutari atque pro vice nobis commissa divinitus augere, ut omnium dubiorum quæ impietatis malignitas procrearet, determinationem a generalibus synodis summisque patribus spectemus atque humiliter requiramus; potissime dum inter partes de veritate fidei aut morum scandalo disceptatur,¹ dum petitur summi Pontificis auctoritas, dum sedet universalis synodus qua conteri potest omnis infidelitas. Quibus commoti sumus improbis ac perditis viris, per hoc jam emeritum lustrum regnum nostrum turbantibus, nullum præstare consen-

Neque tantum valebit dividētis malignitas quin, vobis in unum convenientibus, Spiritus Sanctus animos fidelium in pacem agat et unitatem. Cui concordiæ³ non sine Divino motu nuper dedit studiosam operam vestra Sanctitas, cum Ecclesiæ sanctæ dare pacem per viam puræ et simplicis cessionis, aliis per Pisanum Concilium de papatu ejectis similiter cedentibus, ac etiam in quocumque casu per quem possit haberi unio, spondit, juravit, et vovit: in quo patuit affectus religiosæ pietatis et veri patris ad filios debita compassio. Nam si vera mater a Salomone probatur, quod maluit materno carere titulo quam puerum permittere funestæ sectioni, quanto magis summus pontifex paternam affectionem patefecerit, si⁴ Ecclesiæ jam diu lamentabiliter divisæ reintegrationi suum dominatum posthabuerit atque presidentiam. Sed quid intendat difficile est judicare: hoc tamen sacro a vestro petimus Collegio, ut per omnem viam temptetur ejus reductio; ut animos quos gratulantes effecerat, sibi non inveniatur indignatos, et contententibus detur occasio, ut suam Sanctitatem in populis scandalizent. Attamen persistite; nam instat caritas, clamat populus, et supplex, materna ostendens ubera, lacerata crines et lacrimis perfusa genas, petit Ecclesia, ut suæ afflictioni compatiantur filii quos enutrivit. Jam spes Ecclesiæ tota apud vos; jam a vobis pax et populi salus exquiritur. Et vos unanimiter agite; manete constantes: jam enim amplioribus vigiliis et ferventiori labore opus est. Superba nimis et insensata Regis Scotorum epistola Perth,

Illustrissime Princeps atque excellentissime domine, domine mi singularissime; Ego per alias meas abunde satis circa reversionem oratorum Christianissimi domini domini Regis nostri dixerim, hortorque ac supplicem majorem in modum Celitudinem vestram omnes vires meas interponere velim, quo ipsi ad sacrum hoc Concilium transmittantur; tamen pro affectione erga ipsum dominum Regem meam, Celitudinemque vestram, non possum facere quin multiplicatis vicibus ea replicem, que honori totius regni illius ac universi orbis Christiani pertinere dinoscant. Non possum satis admirari, quanto magis magisque cogito, hanc oratorum ad regnum reversionem, quorum adventus tantam dignitati regis, tantam toti regno Angliæ, gloriam exaltationemque allaturus esset: præsertim qui tam benignis a vobis responsis, qui tam gratis literis, hoc Concilium adventu exinde meo bearim. Nam dum asportata a vobis refero, dum literas adhesionis illius incliti Regis

in mediam hanc sacram congregationem deduco, omnes triumphare videbam; hoc enim vel solo, quem semper Christianissimum omnes senserunt, se subsidii satis habiturum Concilium hoc jamdiu sperabat. Oratores vestros venturos nuntio; leguntur literæ; in actis Concilii rediguntur. Nihil¹ profecto restabat, quominus omnes ex hoc adventu, quem brevem futurum ego quoque prædixi, lætarentur, et præsertim illi qui semper illius regni incliti devotissimi fuere. Inquiet forte quis, Quisnam tanti sperati boni, consolationis, et gaudii disturbator fuit? Neminem profecto, nisi dolosorum linguas arbitror. Horum enim viribus, fictitiisque mendaciorum umbris, hoc evenisse puto. Hi² multa et gravia et iniqua, prout moris sui est nunquam bene dicere, de sacro hoc Concilio referentes, effecerunt ut pro eorum nutu et voluntate omnia disturbarentur, oratores revocarentur, parataque jam subsecuturaque gloria et remuneratio usque in præsentiarum cessarent. Quæ relata quantum a vero distent, Hic scit Qui secreta cordium rimatur, Cuique nihil¹ tam occultum quod non reveletur. Profecto nullum arbitror tam impii ac duri cordis esse quem, si recta lance judicare voluerit, hujus Concilii sollicitudines patientiaque non moveant. Legiturne longissimis temporibus concilium ullum fuisse, cui tam injustæ tot persecutiones, tot gravia pondera, tot malignare cupientium hominum versutiæ insederint? Esset equidem non humanus ille, sed potius saxeus appellandus, qui hæc connumerando lacrimas continere posset. At hæc in medium adducere propositum nunc non est. Illud tantum est, ut orbis clamantis miseriis succurrere velit. Si tamen aliquibus placeret Concilium forte in aliquo peccasse, tanto magis accelerandos oratores regios arbitror: Nam nihil¹ Christi fidelium magis proprium est, quam ut dum in Concilio vel alibi aliqua tractantur aliena a Merito igitur, carissime fili, Serenitas tua Deo adhærens sapientissime fecit, perniciosi hostis amicitiam respuens, malensque egregie cum periculo facere, quam turpiter cum ignominiosa quiete. Cujus facti tui conscientia lætare perpetuo et exulta. Ac considerans qualem eventum constantiæ tuæ dederit Deus, ad reliqua te fortius anima, similem ab Eo misericordiam in ceteris exspectans. Ob hoc enim, quod hostem Suum non audisti, illique conjunctus non es, Serenitati tuæ, adversus totum robur concitatae tyrannidis, cujus cum paucis cruce signatis inermibus ac collectitiis, non te, non nobilitate regnorum tuorum præsentem, in quibus erant veræ ac solidæ vires, gloriosissimam victoriam dedit; qualem nostra ætas non vidit: ut videlicet te commonefaceret Altissimus, ipsum esse Dominum exercituum, et sequentibus Se prospera omnia evenire, spernentibus autem adversa. Quod si propterea in te unum, ut scribis, exarsit furor Turchorum, tuque ideo periculum omne subisti; cogita, carissime fili, te unum quoque hanc sempiternam laudem tibi et posteris tuis peperisse, per universum orbem jam divulgatam. Ac quemadmodum Redemptor noster, Dei Filius, unus pro salute tua et ceterorum fidelium pertulit acerbissimam mortem; ita lætari te et gloriari debere, quod solus fueris qui pro universis Christianis bellum grave ac formidolosum subieris. Quod si etiam dejecta est arx Nandoralbæ, ut deploras, et oppidum solo æquatam, considerare etiam debes majorem te plagam hosti intulisse quam acceperis; plusque multo salutis fuisse, hostes ita confusos in fugam esse conversos, quam eisdem quiescentibus Nandoralbam mansisse incolumem. Nunc etenim, judicio etiam ducis illius egregii, quem tu ad bellum dedisti et cujus nos literas vidimus, facilius

Itaque, carissime fili, quod ad hoc gloriosum certamen te armas; quod paras, una cum prælatis et proceribus, in manu potenti descendere; evocans tecum reservatas ad complendam victoriam regnorum tuorum solidas vires, pie facis, sancte facis, interque omnes Christianos principes gloriosissime facis. Perge igitur, carissime fili. Sequere sanctam Domini crucem, ad te per Ejus in terris vicarium missam. Hujus signum imprime humeris tuis, ad cujus intuitum cadit omnis impietas. Non tendas ad effundendum sanguinem Christianum, bellumque in Catholicos movendum; quod est Deo exosum. Pergis ad sanctam expeditionem, a sede apostolica indictam, ad eximendum perpetuo metu regnum tuum Hungariæ; ad liberandas animas fideles ex laqueo mortis; ad offerendum Deo omnium beneplacitum sacrificium; ad recuperanda sancta illa loca unde, depulsa luce cultus divini, superinductæ sunt tenebræ dæmonum! In quibus operibus erit tibi ductor et comes Deus; misericordiam illam Suam, qua nuper miserator pius inventus est, tecum ampliaturus. Illo tecum pugnante et brachium salutis extendente, nemo adversum te prævalebit; neque ille, qui paulo ante uni per te dato duci cum paucis pugnanti integer cessit, fractus nunc atque confusus tibi resistere poterit; trahenti tecum corpus tuum regnorum tuorum. Hæc, crede nobis, tua est laus: hic tuus triumphus: hæc trophæa sempiternæ memoranda; quibus in conspectu Dei et hominum speciosus videbere! Neque est, carissime fili, quod a nobis tam anxie subsidium tibi præberi, et accendi potentatus Italiæ ad mittendum Celsitudini tuæ præsidium, postules. Super ætatem, supra vires nostras et Romanæ ecclesiæ, omnia facimus. Testis est Deus, Quem nullum secretum latet, quod non mentimur in nomine Suo. Atque utinam sanguine nostro parari salus quam quærimus posset. Illum profecto sine mora daremus. Utinam etiam ejusmodi essent nostræ et ecclesiæ facultates, ut sufficere tanto operi possent. Libenter parceremus tibi et reliquis, quos nunc fatigare compellimur. Sed hoc non possumus. Et quod possumus, ad communem rei publicæ causam sine exceptione afferimus. Nos enim, ut primum assumpti ad pontificatum sumus, illa ipsa hora votum Omnipotentis Deo vovimus, quod tua Serenitas intellexit. Inde, cum in Italia non deessent qui pacem universalem novissime pactam manu armata et potenti molirentur turbare, exercitus cogere et bellum pro oppressis suscipere coacti sumus. Qua una in re grandis sane pecunia consumpta est. Interim legatos nostros et nuntios ad opportunas orbis partes non sine impensa dimisimus. Unum ad regnum tuum Hungariæ destinavimus; cujus qui fuerit fructus, totus orbis intelligit. Alterum istic præsentem eadem potestate constituimus; cujus sanctæ et fideles operationes etiam tuæ Serenitati sunt notæ. Nulla Christiani orbis est pars ad quam non pervenerint nuntii nostri et literæ; non unæ aut alteræ, sed sæpius iteratæ: Reges, principes, potentatusque fideles, qui ubique aliquid possunt, hortati, moniti, et rogati nostris vocibus frequentissime sunt. Thesaurus Ihesu Christi, ad illos et ceteros alliciendos, palam propositus. Nihil fuit quod agere cum Deo in eorum beneplacitum potuerimus, quod non ultra, ut libentius convenirent, eisdem dederimus. Si licet dicere, hæc fuerunt preces obtestationesque nostræ, ut nisi pro hoc sancto opere turpes indignæque apostolatus gradu alias possent videri. A.D. 1456. Classem præterea Romæ, quod antehac nemo, fabricari curavimus. Quod autem non sufficit, aliunde conduximus. Huic legatum dedimus ingenio atque usu præstantem; qui nunc orientales partes cum ipsa classe non dubie infestat. Nam crucis promulgatio atque impressio, indictio precum publicarum ubique fidelium divulgata, a nobis tacentur; quæ tamen inter labores nostros honeste possunt adnumerari. Ad hæc autem paranda cum nobis exhaustis facultates deessent, quicquid auri atque argenti, quicquid vasorum atque preciosæ suppellectilis fuit prædecessores nostros nobis relictum, magno animo expendimus; non parsuri pro fide Catholica et sancto Iesu Christi nomine patrimonio Ecclesiæ, si ita expedierit; cujus partem in hos¹ usus alienare jam cepimus. Hæc considerans, qui majora a nobis desiderat facile de sede apostolica judicare clementius poterit, et putare sedentem in ea omne quod potuit pii patris officium implevisse. Intelligant autem aliquando catholici principes, ampliora se hoc exiguo patrimonio Ecclesiæ possidere; recognoscant quid sit eorum officium, quid Deo promittant, cum infulas dignitatum suarum suscipiunt. Videbunt profecto non omnia humeris pontificum relinquenda; sentient debitores se esse Altissimo potentiæ quam ab Illo acceperunt. Cumque per Illum regnent et imperent, non convenire ut Nomen sanctum Ejus relinquunt in terris nudum præsidio, prædæ ludibrioque infidelium. Hæc tecum paterne colloquimur, non aliam ob causam quam quod ab aliorum negligentia longissime abes; quorum tamen plerosque confidimus, ineunte proximo vere, nobiscum cum potentia sua futuros: sic enim firma eorum promissa habemus. A.D. 1456.

Beatissime pater; osculum ante pedes, et usque ad mortem obedientiam humillimam et devotam. Quas laudes aut gratiarum actiones Omnipotenti Deo et Domino nostro Ihesu Christo, sub Cujus nominis invocatione hanc gloriosissimam victoriam Suam dignatus est nobis præstare, non humana mens concipere posset, non lingua proferre. O pater beatissime, si tua Sanctitas propriis oculis aspexisset de quot et quantis periculis populum Christianum Altissimus liberavit, puto nullomodo ejus Sanctitatem sine lacrimis recensere. Dissipaverant perfidi pagani Turchi mœnia, turres, et ædificia principalis castrî, defensionis nedum incliti regni Hungariæ, sed etiam Christianæ religionis totius. Ad primum introitum dissipandum accesserant jam Turchi per mœnia ruinata, quæ machinis et bombardis perfoderant; namque primos parietes, ne in excessu loquar, forte per triginta foramina, ex quibus vallum et fossatum Nandiralbencis castrî nisi sunt replere; quo facto, ut ad dissipatas turres et mœnia facilius condescendere possent, fecerunt quantum Deus permisit, ad majus eorum judicium inferendum. Ascenderunt in castrum, putaverunt se castrum obtinere cum eorum diabolicis instrumentis et ingeniis. Sed Christo Ihesu, Domino nostro, Sua solita pietate et misericordia protegente, non dicam nihil¹ sed parum nobis obesse quiverunt; multa milia ex eis interempti sunt. est virtus Domini nostri Ihesu Christi! Quia nemo alius tuæ Sanctitatis vicesgerens inerat, me solum oportuit castrum movere, dirigere acies, et ad certum locum deducere in faciem Turchorum. Avisaveram perprius multotiens et instruxeram nostrum exercitum, quasi Josuæ morem gerens in ruinam murorum Gerico, ut me acclamante et Nomen Sacratissimum invocante, omnes Ihesum altissimis vocibus acclamarent. Ita factum est, pater sanctissime, quod cum multitudinem non mediocre congregassem, et ego primus incepissem Ihesum invocare, omnesque ad meam vocem pariter responderent; quamvis mediante flumine Save contra eosdem Ihesu Christi perfidos inimicos transitum faciliter non possemus habere, nisi per paucas naviculas; audientes Ihesu Christi hostes nostras, excelsas voces et resonantes clamores, impii illi maledicti primitus conversi sunt in fugam. Exsurrexit Deus et Dominus noster Ihesus Christus, et dissipati sunt inimici Ejus; sicut deficit fumus defecerunt; et sicut fugit cera a facie ignis, ita perierunt inimici a facie Dei. O pater sancte, quomodo totus populus Christianæ religionis sufficiens esse posset ad reddendum gratiarum actiones et dignas laudes Ipsi Domino nostro Ihesu Christo, Qui, pro Sua causa nostraque protectione, solus pugnavit atque expugnavit et destruxit exercitum magni Turchi, cum sua confusione et dedecore immemorabili; ut inæternum pro duratione præsentis sæculi talis Christi Ihesu victoria gloriosa de ore omnium Christianorum in perpetuum nunquam cesset. Multis præpeditus, pater sanctissime, et arduis negotiis implicatus, ex commissione vestræ Sanctitatis non possum omnia explicare; sed ecce mitto egregium virum D. Ut tuis, vir bone, quæ mihi nunc redditæ sunt literis, congruum verumque responsum accipias, præscribenda est et deducenda in lucem nuda prorsus planaue veritas eorum de quibus querimoniam facere videris. Jam igitur, desperata prorsus resipiscentia tua, dominus dux prædictus, auctoritate regia in hoc fretus, prout dignum et justum erat et æquum ibidem omnibus videbatur, nemine reclamante seu contradicente, sententiam contra teprivationis tulit in scriptis.  Norwicensem nullatenus consentientem iudicibus an-numeravit, ipsos tres, si faventes fuissent sententiæ, non prætermisisset. Vivit adhuc Norwicensis. De se loquatur, si particeps in illa sententia fuerit. Quid immoror ut errasse convincam, quem in recitatione et veritatem, cujus in oblivionem abieras, explanabo.

Sarum was

Firmissime crede, et nullatenus dubites, quin Sares-buriensis ibi non fuit; immo, ut suppono, de numero commissariorum in hoc negotio non fuit. Lincolnensis, ut nosti, in iudicio sedere noluit, ne tam sinistrae sententiæ particeps diceretur aut fieret. Scias, pater, quod præter ipsius Lincolnensis consilium penitus in hoc negotio nihil egi; isto duntaxat excepto, quod præposituræ renuntiare me voluit: et in hoc assensum non dedi. Addis, insuper, in tuis literis, quod omnes socii et scholares dicti Regalis Collegii, præter me, votis regiis sine contradictione quacunque paruere, et se ad observanda statuta ejusdem Collegii juramento astrinxere. Quid scribis, pater? quid scribis? certe vel vehemens oblivio surripuit tibi memoriam, vel aliquid somniabas¹ quod modo literis demandasti. Si socii omnes, ut asseris, juramento se astrinxere, unum de juratis adducito. Vivit magister Wodlark, tunc socius; vivit magister Johannes Holand, tunc vice-præpositus: vivit magister Willelmus Towne, et plures alii; quorum si quispiam in ipso tempore de observando statuta juramentum præstiterit, me non prudenter egisse fatebor. Creditne paternitas tua quod in tam ardua materia tractatum cum senioribus Collegii non habuerim? Habui, ne dubites, qui omnes unanimiter saluberrimum mihi dedere consilium, ut in defensionem veritatis, prout cœperam, perseverarem in finem. Cur non confunderis, egregie domine, ipsos asserere sine contradictione jurasse, quos certus sum potius reliquisse Collegium quam tale præstitisse juramentum, quod tam manifestum in se claudebat perjurium? Scito quia pennam pontificis nequaquam decet esse præcipitem. Consequenter, postquam me sic singularem in mea opinione dixeras, subinfers quod dominus dux antistitesque prædicti, sperantes me posse duci spiritu consilii sanioris, biduo solcite mecum egerunt rogatibus et hortamentis, ut animum meum flecterent. Sed ego, ut asseris, semper in omnibus inexorabilem me exhibens, me magis ac magis induratum et inflexibilem reddidi, ad tantum quod tam duræ cervicis virum non memineris ullibi te vidisse. Scripsisti ut tibi placuit;

sed amplius honori tuo crevisset, si a scribenda hac clausula digitorum cohibuisses. Scribis me inexorabilem, duræ cervicis virum. Si causam te moventem sic scribere interrogarem, aliam prorsus respondere non potes nisi quia publicum nolui committere perjurium, vel quia in acceptione personarum peccare abhorruï in Deum. Habes penes te, ut suppono, responsionem meam in scriptis, vobis in iudicio traditam, quam nec emendare valeo. Illam legito; et per illam invenies me paratum obedientissimumque ad præstandum iuramentum, de observando omnia et singula statuta super quibus fui per vos in iudicio requisitus, duobus duntaxat exceptis; quorum alterum erat ne recognoscerem potestatem, jurisdictionem, vel dominium Cancellarii Universitatis Cantabrigiæ, cuius in oppositum, prout allegavi, per plures præeuntes annos juratus extiteram, et nullam super hoc dispensationem tulistis: reliquum vero, prout vobis in quodam scripto per me edito planissime conclusi, personarum acceptionem et, per consequens, peccatum in se claudebat mortale. Tuum fuisset, famosissime doctor, prius motiva per me facta absolvere, et tunc demum si parere noluerim capitosum, vel duræ cervicis virum seu induratum vocare multum licentius potuisses. Præter hæc, venerabilis pater, retines credo qualiter tibi dixi in præsentia dominorum superius dictorum, pro tanto quod te scivi in sacris canonibus eruditissimum, quod si tu asserere volueris me posse sine offensa Dei exactum præstare iuramentum, quod libenter id facerem, vel officio cederem. Cur non confunderis, vir prudentissime, eum inexorabilem vel inflexibilem dicere, qui se tam obtemperanter subdidit iudicio conscientiaë tuæ? terminorum, quod tamen intentioni tuæ opem præstare nequit. Didici quidem in scholis olim, nec dum id mihi¹ lapsum est, quod magna insurgit diversitas ex præpositione et postpositione terminorum accidentalium.

Examples. Exemplum; Sacerdotem vulneravi, et tamen nunquam vulneravi sacerdotem. Pariformiter; dominus dux Suffolchiæ declinans ad Collegium Regale, te admonuit ut statuta admitteres etc.; qui tamen, non tunc, sed postea dux erat. Magister, non negabis mihi, ut credo, si sane sentias, quin dominus Henricus Rex Angliæ quintus fuit in bello Salopiæ et ibi læsus: et tamen, non tunc Rex erat, sed princeps Walliæ. Ii² qui in diebus meis nudi sophistæ fuerunt, scientes prima ipsius scientiæ rudimenta et propositiones resolvere, statim conciperent dictas jam propositiones veras esse; quas tu, in hoc senio et magno magisterio tuo, veritatem continere refragari videris. Si urbane et comiter edoctus esses, postea quam accesserit cuiquam dignitas major, non amodo jam, omissa ea, ipsum inferioris dignitatis nomine appellares. In hoc ergo negare nequis quin penna mea per viam veritatis cucurrit, et tua in veram logicam palam deliquit. Scribis insuper, ut verba recitem tua, "et tamen nec tunc, nec in antea, ullibi in "Anglia fuit dux talis, etc."

Hic manifeste in grammaticam peccas: cum si nec tunc, nec in antea, talis dux fuerit, evidenter sequatur quod nunquam talis dux fuit: quod quam alienum sit a veritate, patenter videre possunt etiam oculi lippientes. Quod istud sic sequatur ex significatione hujus termini "in antea" satis ostendunt tibi scripta majorum, si ea recensere dignationi tibi sit. Scribis insuper in hæc verba: "Addis, insuper, in tuis literis, quod omnes "socii et scholares dicti Regalis Collegii, præter me, "votis regiis sine contradictione quacunque paruere, "et se ad observanda statuta ejusdem Collegii jura-

non est intentio vestra procedendi ad dictum negotium, nisi regimen et dispositionem patriæ aliter videatis immutari, nescit quid ex hoc intenditis, nisi alias ipsum super hoc informaretis. Ipse tamen sui parte etiam informare intendit præfatos dominos duces de omnibus his, et eis omnia communicare; et vos vestri parte faciatis prout vobis videbitur. Verum quod, domini mei, huic negotio super omnia desiderabilia in hoc mundo afficior, aliquid ex me ex abundantia cordis dicere intendo. Tria enim proponitis Monsieur Roos, ex quibus dicitis negotium pro quo venistis fuisse alteratum et mutatum. Primum, quod vobis commissum est regimen et administratio patriæ, &c. Hoc illustrissimus dominus meus libenter audivit, et quam plurimum gratulatus est de bono et honore vobis impenso. Et ego etiam congratulando de his Deum laudem et laudo. Tamen istud non videtur mihi, loquendo semper cum honore et reverentia, impedimentum parare debere rei seu negotio pro quo venistis: quia etsi ad præsens sitis propterea impeditus et occupatus, venient breviter dies, confido in Domino, quibus non eritis ita pro præmissis astrictus, et vacare poteritis negotio prædicto si vobis placuerit. Ad id vero quod magis vos anxiare videtur de domino meo Leomaine, &c., hoc etiam non debet præstare impedimentum rei seu negotio prædicto; quod, ut scitis, nondum est firmatum seu conclusum negotium prædictum; et ideo honeste non potuisset contradicere præceptis sibi factis. Quin imo etsi fecisset, jam patria nostra fuisset data in prædam, ut sæpe fuimus locuti; et valde miror quod ista nobis improperetis. Scitis enim quod intentionis regis et totius sui consilii est servare domum præfati domini mei propter istud negotium ab omni infamia et ruina ac destructione; quod utique factum non esset, si aliquid prædictis præceptis restitisset. Et multo minus regia majestas extimare debeat præfatum

Spectabiles ac viri egregii dominique mei præstantissimi, humilem et debitam recommendationem. Literas vestras Burdegaliæ xij. Octobris scriptas me recepisse die penultima dictæ mensis per latorem præsentium noveritis; ex quibus grandem ex animo concepi lætitiæ, sentiens statum vestrum votiva perfrui sanitate. Et quamquam tam ex abundantia cordis quam ex affectione, quibus rei prælocutæ afficio, quamque ex multis diversisque ac variis modis exquisitis, quibus illustris dominus meus super accessu vestro ad ipsum tuto ac fideli instetit, multa si tempora paterentur intimare vobis haberem; ad præsens hoc solum sufficiat, quod præfatus dominus meus, sicut hactenus cordi gessit negotium, sic et ad præsens multo plus gerit; nec potest a suo quovismodo mutari proposito, quin magis semper et continue ad id afficiatur, et si affectum suum circa id commode et ad vestri securitatem ostendere posset, per effectum, sicut scribitis, jam dominus misisset vobis ad hoc expressos nuntios, pro conducendo. Sed nondum potuit reperire modum, obstante temporis malitia. Raro enim fides hodie in his partibus, proh dolor! inter homines istos reperitur; et nollet personis vestris egregiis, sicut nec suæ propriæ, scandalum evenire. Et valde, imo supra modum, super his impedimentis anxiat; sed pro hoc non cessat, quin imo nec cessabit, donec viam tutam et fidelem veniendi vobis reperit; et quanto

Idcirco super his supplico mihi per primam rescribite. Sustinete igitur, supplico, modicum tempus, et non pigeat vos exitum felicem in tam arduo negotio expectare, pro quo tam diu tamque viriliter et virtuose laborastis. Confido enim in Domino quod brevissime aperietur nobis via ad vos, et vobis ad nos; jam enim impedimenta declinare incipiunt, et magis inclinata forent, si le nort scriberetur north flasset. ut debuisset et putabamus. Deus enim det prospere flare, ut expedire possimus quod tam diu desideravimus, etc. Regratiatur insuper vobis dominus meus præfatus affectionem in his et constantiam, et ex animo rogat quatinus in his perseverare et diligentiam solitam adhibere, ac continue de bono in melius peragere dignemini. Tempus enim et bona quæ jam in tam alto tamque felici negotio exposueritis, auctore Domino recognoscentur. Nova hoc sero habui de magistris Guilielmo Tirell, N. Huse, et Guillelmo Ettoing, vestris servitoribus, qui Dei gratia bene valent in castro, etc. Deus per suam gratiam conservet eos et defendat ab omni malo et scandalo, et ipsis vobis remittat cum gaudio. Insuper doleo quod Huse, qui facturus erat ambaxiatam, etc. illuc accesserit. Si tamen vobis videretur quod dominus meus præfatus fieri deberet alicujus pacis seu treugæ mediator, et de hoc aliquid sibi rescriberetis, sum certus quod proficeret, et ad statum seu effectum votivum produceret. Spectabiles ac viri egregii dominique mei præstantissimi, humilem et debitam recommendationem. Per manus latoris præsentium et magistri Hansa, etc., recepi vestras duplices literas, Burdegaliæ primas, xij. Octobris, secundas vero die iij^a præsentis mensis Novembris, per vos domino meo et mihi baculo pastoralis transmissas; quæ non modicum sibi et mihi gaudii attulerunt, sentienti affectionem vestram et animum ad prælocuta durare. Ex sua enim parte ad id etiam durant et indies crescunt. Postquam igitur dictus Hansa sanus Dei gratia appulit, id pro quo venerat, tres viz. imagines et picturas expedire, et eisdem continue operam dare cœpit et diligentiam exactissimam circa id adhibere nititur, taliter quod cum Dei adjutorio in brevi vobis expeditus remittetur. Jam enim primam ex tribus infra dies iij^{or} vel paulo pluris linteo impresserit, reliquas inde brevius factururus, cum jam materiam ad omnes necessariam præparaverit. Pro posse instabo ad expeditionem ipsius celerem; ut pro hoc ad exitum præoptatum et felicem citius pertingere valeamus. Super iis vero quæ de mittendo aliquos pro parte domini mei præfati ad communicandum vobiscum super agendis, etc., scribitis, expedire satis domino meo visum fuit et est; et præsertim si deliberaveritis super iis operam, et talem sicut casus exigit, accommodabit. Ex parte enim altera, certi sumus quod circa id libenter intendet, etc., et certe, M. Hull, non videtur mihi, cum reverentia, quod de tam longa mora et statione dominorum meorum debeatis mirari. Considerare enim placeat, quot et quanta sibi et nobis impedimenta circa id, sine culpa et facto nostris, evenerint. Excusabiles enim sumus ipsi et nos apud Deum et homines, ut satis oculata fide cognoscere potestis. Neque unquam defuit, sicut nec deest, animus expediendi negotium prout re et facto brevissime, auxiliante Domino, ostendetur. Curate igitur, domini mei, supplico, quam citius super præmissis deliberare, et rescribere quæ vobis videbuntur; ut tunc magis instructi venire possint et securius quos dominus meus vobis mittere deliberavit. Treugæ etenim hujusmodi, sicut alias plenius scripsi, judicio meo intendere deberetis, pluribus attentis quæ ad præsens dimitto et quæ vestris circumspectionibus latere non puto. Recommitto me magistro Guilielmo Tirel, Guilielmo Austin, et aliis vestris; Deum exorando quod alios vestros in castro, etc., existentes, etc., a periculis et scandalis conservare dignetur et ipsos ad vos feliciter redire concedat, vestrasque personas egregias dirigere dignetur in agendis juxta vota. [CCLXXIV. INSTRUCTIONS TO THE ENVOYS TO THE COUNCIL OF BÂLE.]

Instructio Ambassiatorum predictorum.

Articuli. Instructio data per dominum nostrum Regem, de advisamento consilii sui, venerabilibus in Christo patribus ac fidelibus suis, Roberto Londoniensi etc., in ambassata dicti domini nostri Regis ad Concilium generale Basiliense transituris.

1. The disposition required of the Envoys.

In primis; Dicti ambassiatores, omni temeritate et presumptione, ambitione, invidia, ira, et contentione remotis, cum omni patientia et benignitate, modeste, pacifice, et tranquille communicabunt, tractabunt, et prosequentur negotia sibi commissa; non querendo que sua sunt per adulationes forte vel complacentias quibuscumque personis impendendas; sed omni personarum et negotiorum acceptione deposita, cordibus ad Deum sursum erectis, laborabunt pro universali et publico bono Ecclesie et Regis ac regnorum suorum; nec ferentur, communicabuntur, seu concludentur inter eos;

 nec tractet ad partem cum aliis extraneis negotia
 ambassiatæ suæ, nisi hoc faciat de communi eorum consensu.

Iterum; Iidem ambassiatores omnibus viis, modis, et ^{2. They are}

Et in eventu quo finaliter nequiverint admitti absque eo, saltem quod juramento firmaverint illud unum articulum de fideliter consulendo, et omissis aliis articulis durioribus in dicto juramento contentis, ad quod moderamen tendere videntur literæ supradictæ domini præsiditis. Tunc si Constiterit eis tam Imperatorem quam alios principes illic existentes, et absentium principum ambassiatores, articulum illum juramento firmasse, debent finaliter, si non obstet alia causa rationabilis, se in ea parte eis conformare.

and only to yield the point with reservation.

3. To advocate proceeding by nations. Iterum ; Si post diligentias ab eisdem ambassiatoribus investigando, singulariter et ad partem, dispositiones personarum existentium in Concilio quoad modum procedendi per nationes, pro quo modis et viis quibus poterunt laborabunt, non videbitur eis quod Concilium ad hoc quoquo modo posset induci, conformabunt eo casu se aliis in modo procedendi.

4. To act as far as possible with the Emperor. Iterum ; Iidem ambassiatores exhibebunt et impendent domino Imperatori omnimoda honores, reverentias, et obsequia ; ad quem in singulis concernentibus Regem recurrent pro consiliis, auxiliis, et favoribus, si et quando videbitur eis expedire ; et quantum cum Deo et ratione poterunt, ad hoc semper tendent et laborabunt, ut in materiis in Concilio tractandis sit inter ipsum dominum Imperatorem et eos conformitas opinionum. Et si aliquando, quod absit, videbitur eis, ratione ad hoc urgente, non esse sequendam opinionem suam, laborabunt honestiori, modestiori, et discretiori modo sciverint ad removendum eum ab hujusmodi opinione sua ; quod si non poterunt, cum minori dis-

Iterum; Si postquam intraverint Concilium, inter- 5. How to riarum, invenerint magnam vel majorem partem Concilii question dispositam et inclinatum ad procedendum contra do- of the rigorem, ipsi tamen semper, quantum cum Deo et justitia possunt, ad hoc tendent et laborabunt, ut maneant et conserventur in Ecclesia pax, unitas, et tranquillitas; et removeantur ab ea schismata, turbationes, et scandala: Hoc tamen servato moderamine, quod ubi ex causis justis, legitimis, jure divino et ecclesiæ Cantuariensi approbatis, Concilium procederet contra dominum nostrum Papam, ipsi ambassiatores eo casu facient quod secundum intelligentiam et discretionem eis a Deo datas videbitur eis faciendum. Et si ipsis in itinere versus Basiliam constitutis occurrerit certitudo de processu hujusmodi contra dominum Papam ex causis talibus de quibus præfertur, quod Deus avertat, facto, ipsi nihilo-minus continuabunt iter suum Basiliam, ad procedendum illic una cum aliis ad actus posteriores tales quales ne-cessitas et utilitas universalis Ecclesiæ exigit et requirit.

 Si vero, quod nolit Deus, ipsis in itinere existentibus innotesceret de processu hujusmodi facto contra dominum Papam, et electionem consequentem alterius in summum Pontificem, ipsi ambassiatores nec ultra pro-gredientur nec revertentur, donec certioraverint regiam Celsitudinem de rebus sic gestis, et receperint responsa regia de eo quod ultra sunt acturi.

Iterum; Si in Concilio fiant instanciæ pro cassatione, 6. The nec a literis quos et quas tam crebro complacuit ipsi Concilio transmittere regiae Celsitudini unquam factum est verbum, mentio vel motio Regi de materia hujusmodi statuti; et quod pro tanto nullam super hoc habent instructionem vel mandatum. Poterunt tamen cum protestatione, non ambassiatores nec vice regia, sed velut ipsi vice propria, in materia concernente possessiones olim alienigenarum dicere: quod secundum antiquissimas regni leges, quascumque possessiones, prædia, vel redditus ipsius regni, vel in eo, conferuntur Ecclesiae, vel pro loco sub modo vel conditione, vel ad certum et determinatum usum, si neglexerunt collatarii observare, implere, vel exequi usum, causam, conditionem, seu modum primariæ donationis, poterunt ipsi collatores vel eorum heredes, propter defectum, neglectum, seu culpam collatariorum non observantium, non implentium, vel non exequentium causam vel usum determinatum, conditionem seu modum donationis hujusmodi sic cessantium repetere seu condicere possessiones, prædia, vel redditus sic donata; et quod, ut idem ambassiatores hactenus didicerunt, dum et postquam exortæ fuerunt et durarunt guerræ inter Angliæ et Franciæ regna; non implentibus ipsis ecclesiis et monasteriis alienigenis causas et usus propter et ad quos hujusmodi possessiones, prædia, et redditus in Anglia eis fuerunt collata, sed cessantibus contra formam collationis subsequentem, demum præmissa conquestione, debita auctoritate Regis et trium regni statuum, concurrente consensu omnium quorum intererat, revocabantur hujusmodi possessiones de manibus ecclesiarum alienigenarum ad quas antea spectabant, et applicabantur juri et dominio regis:

Et quod post hæc nihilominus inclitæ recordationis Rex. H. Quintus, pater domini nostri Regis moderni, licet occasione præmissorum dictas possessiones, redditus, et prædia sibi retinere potuisset, amplioris tamen devotionis ardore succensus, volens et intendens hujusmodi redditus, possessiones, et prædia, non in abusus sicut ante tenebantur, sed in sacros et pios usus disponere, sicut postea disposuit, ex abundantia et pro majori securitate et cautela impetravit et obtinuit a felicitatis recordationis Martino Papa Quinto sibi concedi, quod ipse omnia prædicta possessiones, redditus, et prædia, disponere posset et convertere in dotationes monasteriorum et ecclesiarum, et alios pios usus, secundum devotionem sibi divinitus inspirandam, sicut fecit. Et quod de terris in regno Franciæ et ducatu Normanniæ constitutis, congruam recompensationem facere posset ecclesiis et monasteriis ad quæ prædicta redditus, et possessiones, et prædia de regno Angliæ antea spectabant; iudicibus datis qui ecclesias et monasteria alienigenarum ad huiusmodi recompensationem recipiendam compellerent et coartarent; sicut in literis dicti felicitatis recordationis Martini palam est intueri. Cujus concessionis et indulti prætextu, prædictus inclitæ recordationis Rex H. Quintus dictorum monasteriorum et ecclesiarum alienigenarum prælati, coram prædictis iudicibus ad hoc legitime citatis et vocatis, recompensationem congruam juxta vim, formam, et effectum dictarum literarum apostolicarum obtulit et fecit offerri; sic quod per ipsum non stetit quominus recompensationem congruam habuissent; nec fortassis stabit per dominum nostrum Regem modernum, quominus recompensationem huiusmodi habeant, si debito modo et cum humilitate instare voluerint pro huiusmodi recompensatione habenda.

Iterum; Si a dictis ambassiatoribus petatur, ut per medium Concilii ineatur tractatus pacis, et abstinentiæ guerrarum inter Regem et adversarium suum; Ambassiatores ipsi respondebunt; quod quantas diligentias, sollicitudines, et labores hactenus impenderit, et impendi mandaverit et consenserit Serenitas regia, circa pacem et media convenientia et rationabilia ad eandem

Deus et novit reverendissimus pater dominus Cardinalis Sanctæ Crucis, qui inter ipsum et adversarium suum per spatium quasi duorum annorum pro pace solers extitit mediator. In qua re cujus voluntatis et dispositionis extiterit dominus noster Rex memorato Cardinali satis constat, qui tanto tempore laborans, partem adversam ad aliquem pacis seu treugarum modum rationabilem inducere non potuit; nec ad abstinentiam guerrarum, si non quatuor mensium dumtaxat, infra quos sibi colligere potuisset messem et vina; frustrasse labores armatos per Regem illo tunc in Francia transmissos; sic quod, ut idem dominus Cardinalis satis novit, non stetit per Regem quo minus tractatus pacis inter ipsum et adversarium suum gratum habuisset introitum, et demum, donante Domino, votivum effectum. Et licet ex hujusmodi de qua præfertur elongatione adversarii satis præsumi posset, et verisimilis conjectura recipi, quod non immaneret sibi dispositio vel inclinatio ad pacis hujus tractatum; sed quod incassum dari putaretur instructio regiis ambassiatoribus ad pacem cum dicto adversario pertractandum; nihilominus, pro reverentia Dei et sacri Concilii, ipsi ambassiatores pro parte Regis, vestigiorum paternorum imitatoris, exhibebunt se paratos ad audiendas pacis hujusmodi tractandæ vias, quas sacrum Concilium dignabitur aperire et intendere; taliter quod nihil temeritatis in ea parte regiæ Celsitudini aut debebit vel poterit rationabiliter ascribi. In cujus materiæ deductione poterunt dicti ambassiatores ad hoc tamquam via congrua descendere, quod advisentur per Concilium persona seu personæ indifferentes, neutri viz. parti rationabiliter suspecta seu suspectæ, per cujus vel quarum medium in loco aliquo neutri partium subjecto, nec ab eisdem nimis remoto; veluti in civitate Cameracensi, Hannonia, vel Brabancia, a quo faciliter mitti poterit ad utramque partium, et ad quem majores principes et Iterum; Vult et mandat regia Celsitudo dictis ambassiatoribus suis, quod in omnibus et singulis materiis, tam viz. illis quæ concernunt status Regis, regnorum, terrarum, et dominiorum suorum, præsertim in materia pacis antedictæ, et aliis concernentibus statum Ecclesiæ Gallicanæ et regni Franciæ, communicent cum ambassiatoribus suis de et pro regno suo Franciæ transmittendis, et cum ambassiatoribus carissimorum avunculorum suorum, ducum Burgundiæ et Britanniæ, ad hoc viz. quod in singulis procedant unanimi et concordii assensu et voluntate.

[CCLXXVII.¹—BULL OF POPE EUGENIUS IV. GRANTING PLENARY INDULGENCE TO THOSE WHO VISIT ETON ON THE FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION, AND CONTRIBUTE TO ITS SUPPORT, &C.]

Eugenius episcopus, servus servorum Dei, universis May 9.
A.D. 1442.
Christi fidelibus præsentēs literas inspecturis, salutem et Apostolicam benedictionem. Dum nefarias turbationum atque adversitatum procellas, necnon insidiosas tendiculas, pericula quoque ac discrimina varia quibus credita nobis divinitus beati Petri apostolorum principis navicula subjicitur; dum insuper perfidas quas in Universalis scissuram Ecclesiæ hæretici et schismatici exquirere non cessant machinationes; dum postremo strages, incendia, servitutes, aliaque innumerabilia pericula, quæ Christiani nominis inimica Turcorum et paganorum aliorumque barbarorum gens in creditum nobis populum, in plerisque regnis ac provinciis catholicis a paucis citra annis exercere non desinunt, sacratissimam Orientalis cum Occidentali Ecclesia unionem factam rumpere et penitus exinanire satagentes, in nostræ mentis arcanis attenta meditatione revolvimus;

This Bull is numbered 6 in the Eton Collection. It is quoted at length in the following Bull, and the few variations of that text are here noted under signature *, in order to obviate the necessity of printing it again in full.

ceteras hasce calamitates et ærumpnas sæculi: Sæculi, inquam, mei; quas infelicitates ne tu experireris priscius sapuisti. Sapientia quidem, beatissime pontifex, sæculum tuum coaptaveras, ne istud nostrum incurreres. Non enim arbitror nisi summa sapientia te directum, qui inter hos turbines, ætate bona, non solum in ulnas amplecti suaviter Dominum alter Simeon; verum etiam cum Petro, cum Johanne, cum Andrea inquam, velut columpna in ecclesia tua fixus, ut ipsam sustentens, esse conatus es. Interest ergo multum inter curas tuas, negotiaque seu Regis seu regnorum quæ olim expertus es; et inter curas et negotia dierum nostrorum, in quibus quanto magis curatum, tanto magis curandum relinquitur; velut si laterem lavent. Nempe quid pariunt nostra tempora, nisi homicidia, furta, seditiones; et quæ sunt nobilissima regna exterminantia, intestina bella? Illas insidias, loquor, illa spolia et deprædationes, illa arma fulgentia, quæ ubique feruntur; quasi non esset nomen Domini invocatum super nos; quasi, inquam, non Christiani simus, sed infideles filii! Pronefas, quanta dementia, dimissis hostibus, nos ipsos invadere! quanta item vecordia, inimicis ab oriente persequentibus, in occidium arma vertere, quibus modo tua patria perturbatur! Vereor, equidem, ne vera Anglorum militia tam prope sit occasum quam prope est occidentem. Ista, miseria sæculi, nescio an mei an nostri, me contundit et hebetat. Finit epistola tertia literatissimo præsuli et domino suo beneficentissimo, domino Thomæ de Bekintonæ, Wellensi et Bathoniensi episcopo, a M. Thoma Chaundlero, Collegii beatæ Mariæ Wintoniæ in Oxonia custode, pro Cancellariatu ecclesiæ cathedralis Wellensis, sibi ab eodem domino collato, epistola regratiatoria incipit feliciter.

[CCLXXXIII. THOMAS CHAUNDLER TO BISHOP BEKYNTON.]

Amicitiaë, beneficiorum, et tuæ semper in me benevolentiaë, dignissime Præsul et pater inter mortales amantissime, quotiens sum memor, totiens mentem illabitur ea Marci Ciceronis oratio, quam a senatu in suam urbem honorificenter revocatus, et reditus sui diem in gratiis Romani populi componere statuens, ita aggressus est : “ Quid precatus,” inquit, “ a Jove optimo “ ceterisque diis immortalibus sum, eo tempore cum “ me fortunæque meas pro vestra incolumitate, otio, “ concordiaque devovi,—ut si meas res unquam vestraë “ saluti anteposuissem, sempiternam pœnam sustinerem, “ mea voluntate susceptam.” Et infra ita orationem prosequitur : “ Jam vero honos, dignitas, locus, ordo, “ beneficia vestra, adeo mihi semper clarissima fiunt, “ ut intelligere possitis neminem unquam tanta elo- “ quentia fuisse, nec tam incredibili atque divino “ dicendi genere præditum, qui vestram magnitudinem “ multitudinemque beneficiorum, quam in me contulis- “ tis, non modo augere aut ornare oratione, sed enu- “ merare aut consequi possit.” Sed, O dilectissime Præsul, quo nemo mihi carior, quorsum æstimas hæc intromisi ? Profecto quid ipse precatus sim ab Vero et Solo Deo, doctus sacrarum auctoritate scripturarum, non ignoro. Sed si redeundo Ciceronem, per Senatus auctoritatem in suam urbem honorificenter revocatum, atque ceteras fortunas suas; itidemque memè, tua benevolentia et gratia civitati meæ non mediocriter honorifice restauratum, et fortunas meas, ac senatus honorem, dignitatem, humanitatem, beneficia; itidemque universa hæc tua promoventis, non inconsiderate prospexeris; intueberis quidem decoro ordine singula coaptari. In ipsis namque beneficiis tuis tanta magnitudo est, ut nec eam complecti oratione possim, sed nec enumerare quidem. Ergo potius cum Cicerone mea voluntate sempiternam pœnam eligere debeo, quam aut res meas aut cujusquam mortalis salutem tuæ anteponere. Quid vero præterea non tam incendii quam stuporis, inquam, in me generent mansuetudo animi, affabilitas, benevolentia, pietas in miseros, in devotione tua experta mihi sanctitas. O Deus immortalis, hæc mihi, et si usu vocabulorum nota sunt, antea tamen nusquam, sicuti neque adhuc, luculenter nisi per Te apprehensa dinoscuntur. Quam ob rem has mihi comperando virtutes, malim tuo amori, beatissime Pontifex, inhærere quam nonnulla possidere dominia. Precor ergo dilectionem tuam, etiam per sacrum illum Apostolum cui nos commendamus, in cuius voce rursus oro, ne me permittas, domine, famulum tuum a te separari etc. Fateor quod non est mortaliter vivens, cui quam tibi magis debeo: et si forte remissus fuero in solvenda debiti ratione, spes tamen apud me est te inveniendi semper mansuetum. Et meipsum commendo tuæ paternitati amantissimæ: quæ valeat in magnam ætatem, reverendissime in Christo Pater. De Oxonia rudi manu mea, iiiii^{to} Kalendas Januarii.

Finit epistola regratiatoria ad literatissimum Præsulem et dominum suum beneficentissimum, dominum Thomam de Bekingtona, Wellensi et Bathoniensi episcopo, a M. Thoma Charndelero, Collegii Beatae Mariae Wintoniæ in Oxonia custode directa.

BEKYNTON.]

P. 1. *Ad insignem dominum et literatissimum præsulem, dominum Thomam de Bekyntona, Wellensem et Bathoniensem pontificem, in futuras colloquutiones de laudibus nobilis Antistitis Willelmi de Wykeham, ducentorum fundator clericorum, prologus incipit felici-

Cum dudum, beatissime præsul, eam quam apud Oxonienses reipublicæ curam gessi et Cancellariatus officium, succedenti mihi nobili ac dignissimo præsuli, tradidissem; liberum me ita sensi, et gravissimis nempe solutum laboribus, ut nesciam profecto an ex parte potius bene contigisse mihi, an totum me felicem fore dicendum sit. Nam si aut priscos commemoremus urbium rectores, aut jam nostros, perpaucos horum sane consecutos esse honores monumento dignos maximis absque periculis, intuebimur. Id sentiunt Reges, pontifices sciunt, civium proconsules experiuntur. Aiunt tamen Stoici, quosdam ita felices esse homines, ut cum regant nullum patiantur discrimen: adversum eis nihil. Sed ego, longe hisce viris impar, malo, ut inquit Seneca, mediocrem in quiete agere vitam, quam summis in honoribus perturbari. Sic Cato Censorius, sic Marcus Cicero, sic Annæus ille Seneca, post senatorios labores conquieverunt; hoc demum divino contenti oraculo: "In paucis curis perampla quies." Sed quidem, si ego in officiis aliquando Reipublicæ apud nostram colendissimam matrem Universitatem Oxoniæ steterim honoratus, si malorum dierum corrector, et pacis inter cives promotor; si impetum leonum extinxerim; si, teste veritate et mea conscientia, horribiles dissensiones ac schismata in ipsis primordiis, dum recentia fuere, sint industria mea antea sedata quam orta; non enim, ut Epicurus, id casui ascribo, vel ideo, ut Democritus, colo fortunam, sed Summo rerum Opifici gratias semper ago peruberrimas. Ac eo præsertim, quod etsi magnificis illis mea voluntate caruerim officiis, populi tamen favorem non amiserim. Verum malidici tamen viri, perpauci quidem, aliorum et nomen et famam semper depeculantes, ad dilacerandum me, quod maximis vix absque fletibus referre possum, ingeniati sunt. Ipsi quidem adversum me tumescunt, quasi me velint tam publicis quam privatis exponi calumniis, et sic confundi interireque ita. Scisti tales, beatissime pater; et scio ego quales divinus ille Plato, non homines sed canes potius appellat; et eo inquit, quod, cum obtrectatoris officium assumant, sensui parent, deficient ratione, corpus animæ imperat, mordere non cessant; et, cum ita sit, latrantis beluse proprietatem induunt. Nolo tamen in hoc nefandissimum genus hominum vindex esse. Pacem cupio; opto eorum emendam. Nolo irracionales expugnare; nam ratione digna satis ad vincendum. Soleo tales plus abhorreere quam timere. Sed O utinam, quotiens obtrectatores æmulique mei me accusant, adessem præsens. An ne tunc sibi ipsis nocuerint obloquia sua? Ne perfidiam vicerit veritas? Ne innocentia malitiam condemnarit? Apte sane cum Plutarcho diceres pro me, qui ad malidicum Segeium ait: "Desine, obtrectator, Cirillo familiari meo veridico invidere. Invidia itaque tua tristitia quædam innata est tibi ex apparente illius prosperitate. Ego quippe eum habeo virum illustrem approbatumque satis. Audio sæpenumero loquentem te; sed tacenti Cirillo adhibeo fidem." Magnas itaque gratias meruit iste apud Plutarchum. Sed ego quot plures apud te, beneficentissime domine, habui Majores sane nemo usquam ab amicis-simis suis, quam ego a te, susceperit gratias. Res animum docet. Legisti, reor, illa poetæ elegantissima metra :

“ Ipsam sibi virtus odium parit ; aulica rodit
“ Serra virum mores ; et laudis eclipticat astrum “ Livor ; et in tenebris ingloria pallet honestas ;
“ Et virtus titulos, sua mater pignora, perdit.”

Et alibi :

“ Sit procul invidiæ suspecta novacula, solis
“ Ingeniosa dolis &c. . . .”

3. Hæc et percelebre illud ab antiquo proverbium, “ Sola miseria caret invidia,” tuum, scio, non effugiunt animum cum obtrectatores mei suis latratibus me obrepant. Nam veniferos hujusmodi homines, non cordi, sed vento magis, demandare soles. Ex quo mihi autem magnum non modo solamen est ; æmulis imo meis confusio major. Eoque maxime, quod cum veritas vim in publico obtinuerit, vadit ad angulos pallere livor ; subridet amicus ; tristatur æmulus. O utinam aliquando saperent istæ belligeræ linguæ, cum alios diffament, illud Socraticum, “ Nocet esse locutum ; sed tacuisse “ nusquam !” Morbos scrutentur suos ; medelam adhibeant. Bene tamen est, amantissime domine ; nam, quæ videbatur aliquamdiu sopita fuisse, venit ad lucem veritas ; et, quod mihi omnium quidem est plurimum acceptatius, jam habeo probam amicorum. Amplius meam non potest effugere mentem, illa Senecæ digna quæstio :
“ Quis est amicus ? Qui utriusque fortunæ,” inquit, “ particeps est. Quo modo probatur ? In re,” ait, “ prospera difficile probare est ; in adversa facile.”
Multorum quidem odia panduntur, non dico si ceci-deris, sed si titubaveris. Ha ! quorsum enarratio hæc ?
Mediusfidius vix me scribens continere possum, quin de ipsis eorumque malitiis aliquid referam, qui plus gaudere solent de aliorum rebus adversis quam proaperis. Sed expedit me sathanam habere aliquem. In hoc veritatis honor constitit: In hoc virtus probatur: In hoc digne ipsa victoria laudem consequitur, cujus sine adversario brevis est laus. Nam cum Simonides quidam interrogaretur, quo modo aliquis invidos non haberet: "Si nihil," inquit, "ex magnis rebus habuerit; aut nihil feliciter gesserit." Ista, perbeste praesul, contra malidicos non ideo dixerim, ut me livere agitatam ira fervere putes; aut verba haec mea contra illos quasi virus efflare: sed veritatem mendacii anteponens, mei innocentis animi magnitudinem promo. Exacuum ergo quosdam vixero contra invidos linguam meam: mendaces calamo feriam, Deo hominibusque odibiles detractores; quibus te mihi beneficentissimum, quasi solum ac unicum inter has procellas amicum, tollere cura fuit, omnemque ad id operam impenderunt; ut apte satis tristis ac lugens cum devota muliere querula dicerem: "Tulerunt Dominum meum." Att. s. Joh. xx. 13.

P. 4. ceterasque istiusmodi detestabiles malitias, ne mei videar causam agere, non stabit omnis labor meus et studium; verum in laudandis moribus colendaque virorum illustrium vita ac virtute mirabili. Ita profecto agendi sum nactus occasionem ab ista rerum experientia, qua didici, ex aliorum canina rabie, quam amplectendi sunt, quamque amicissimi homines et clari sinceriter diligendi, magnis quoque honoribus excolendi. Honor enim virtutis praemium est; nedum hanc labilem degentibus tribuendum. Imo majores omnes regnorum, et gentium boni principes, ipsi praesules, ceterique tales, quos vitae ac morum decorat honestas, quamquam mortui, in laude tamen quadam et digna hominum memoria videntur beati vivere. Divinis namque in Scripturis sancti, Moyses, Samuel, David, alii quoque duces, judices, et prophetae, ob eorum merita memorantur, saepius commendati. Graecorum rursus sapientia, et potentia Romanorum, utriusque in genere suo. Hi suos Reges et philosophos; illi quidem Senatum et Cæsares summa gloria cælo cœquarunt. Et honeste quidam; nisi quod ostentatione nimia suorum actuum, scribæ et poetæ fictionibus suis nobis illos tradidissent, eo mirabiliores quo rapti in cælum crederentur esse dii. Et si Græcorum Romanorumque scribæ, poetæ, et comici, tantum suis nobilibus titulum laudis tribuunt; e quibus, præter honorem patriæ, utilitatem sunt minimam consecuti; nos, ut in illorum ducentorum numero clericorum omnes comprehendam, quos pius ille pater Wintoniensis dignissimus præsul Willelmus de Wykam, fundaverat; quid honoris, quid laudis, quid gloriæ, fundatori nostro tanto contulimus, qui nihil ferme de beatis ejus moribus et vita sollicite exquirentes; pro pudor! immemores beneficii, quasi morbidum patimur lethargum? Ego quidem, O dignissime præsul, vir mihi omnium amicissime, quo in hac re potior aut electior judex esse nequit, de laude et gloria domini Fundatoris tuo nomini libellum istum consigno. Habet autem de vita et moribus ipsius disputata inter philosophos colloquia; orta quidem ab illo digni præsulis eloquio, quod inter suos consuevit dicere, et ab Anglorum lingua in Latinam isto translato modo: "Mores componunt hominem." Omnes, ut ait philosophus, transumentes, secundum aliquam similitudinem transumunt. Propterea nos, quemadmodum aiunt, viribus bene compactum corpus, similem ad modum virtutibus animum compositum, vel hominem æquelicenter existimavimus pronuciare: ut, Bene compositi sunt Catonis mores; aut si quid simile. Nam si oppositorum lex est, ut

2. 5. suis contra se significationibus pugnent; puta cum bono malo, et cum malo bonum; virtus cum vitio, et vitium cum virtute; sed vitiosum quemquam sæpe dissolutum vocamus, et infectum corruptumve moribus: quid ergo obstat, cum infici et confici, dissolvi et componi, manifeste opposita sint, virum quempiam morosum compositum moribus, virtutibus confectum, apte quidem

et ornatius pronuntiare. Quippe collocutiones istas, O sacer animarum pastor, tuo nomini recommissas, ut detractoribus meis omnem materiam obloquendi surripiam, velut miseris eorum compatiens, scias velim per unum e scholaribus, quem ego in teneris annis philosophiam docui, suo modo indigeste collectas, ad ampliationem socialis gaudii aliquando publice coram Rege solatii fuisse dictas; mihi tamen amico et suo præcipuo amatori, cum Wintoniæ collegium custodirem, in libello conscriptas; nullo præter nos homine sciente. Sed ego tanti muneris indignum me receptorem existimans, elimato superfluo, plurima sui parte correctas, in multis vero mutatas, tibi dignissimo præsuli omniumque quos tanti patris et fundatoris gremium enutrivit insignissimo, duxi summopere transcribendas. Quoniam tamen in hisce dumtaxat moribus quos tradunt philosophi, non stat perfecta viri laus, habet rursus libellus iste pro reliqua sui parte allocutiones tibi, O pater electissime, altiori quidem tractas principio, de catholicorum doctorum collectas apicibus. Huic ergo compilato operi, ubi de sapienti nobilis antistitis ducentorum fundatoris clericorum verbo, et de tua laude dignissima, O literatissime pontifex, interdum inserenda sermocionandum erit, supplex peto, ut dignanter faveas, meque agnellum tuum virga tua et baculo tuo contra mordaces illos et rabidos obtrectatores, piissime Pastor, defendas: quos, te opitulante, magis horrere debeo quam timere; uti cum Aristippo diceretur: "Aliqui te contemnunt homines; et illos, asini;" inquit. Sed nec illi asinos, nec ego illos curo.

Finit prologus in futuras collocutiones de laudabili vita et moribus nobilis Wintonienis Antistitis, Willelmi de Wykeham, duorum Fundatoris Collegiorum Oxoniæ ac prope Wintoniam, ducentorum quoque clericorum in eisdem.

Collocutio prima de laudibus nobilis Antistitis domini Willelmi de Wykeham, ducentorum Fundatoris clericorum. Colloquuntur philosophi duo; Panescius, qui dicitur omnia sciens, et Ferrandus tardioris ac durioris intellectus.

[Panescius. Civitatem appellare venustius potuisses quam villam; quod profecto luce clarius intelligeres, si omnem qui intro est nitorem ac pulcritudinem conspiceres. Speciosissima namque ecclesia ista quam adhuc procul cernimus, piissimo Immortalis Dei Andreæ Apostolo consecrata, intus habet digni præsulis episcopalem cathedram. Habet insuper adjunctum ingens palatium, miro splendore decorum, fluentibus aquis undique vallatum, et delectabili murorum turrillorumque serie coronatum; in quo præsidet dignissimus ac literatissimus præsul, Thomas, hujus nominis primus. Ferrandus. Non est in terminis ea ponenda vis, O Panesci. Poteram enim dixisse æque luculenter civitatem urbemve sicuti villam. Sed audi quam egregie precor ait Flaccus Horatius:

Ego autem vetustum et adhuc usitatum dicendi
 morem sequens, quemodmodum aiunt villam Bristollie, villam Calisie, seu aliam quamlibet, æquo arbitraber jure villam hanc Fontium nominare. In quo, precor, redarguisses si novum et inauditum finxissem verbum, aut aliunde formassem? Nam ita facere quandoque licet; velut rursus auctor Horatius inibi paulo pridem ait de Romana lingua:

“ Si lingua Catonis et Ennii
 “ Sermonem patrium ditaverit,¹ et nova rerum
 “ Nomina protulerit; licuit semperque licebit
 “ Signatum præsentem nota producere verbum.”

Sed quid ista hic? Studentibus Oxoniæ relinquuntur. Modo quietem opto magis; quoniam ingens dolor poplites aggravat. Attenuarunt me studium frequens, ciborum Oxoniæ parcitas, et labor itineris. Multas enim calamitates et miseras patimur studiosi.

Panescius. Non sunt hæ miseriæ quas dicis esse, Hardships of a student's life at Oxford. Ferrande. Ipsa macies et pallor in facie tua residens attenuatum te aliosque permultos Oxoniæ studentes ostendit.

Cui in ipsis primordiis tanta inerat in sermone facundia, corporis elegantia, ingenii perspicacitas, et gravitas morum, ut qui eum viderant omnes futurum pontificem esse prædicarent. pore studio antecellens, egregius et in Anglorum gente facundissimus Legum Doctor Oxoniæ creatus est. Ita nihilominus nunc senex ingenio pollet, memoria viget, quod ipsa Logicæ principia quæ adolescens ante jura civilia didicerat, ac philosophiam quam audiendo ac legendo acquisierat, omnia ita memoriter tenet, ut si eum disserentem audieris, putes te doctissimorum philosophorum gignasiis interesse. Sic plantatus est, sic irrigatus liberalium artium ac legum imbribus, sed et Scriptura Divina; adeo fructifer ut quidquid arduum, quidquid difficile videatur opponi, mira quadam vel ingenii perspicuitate vel suæ artis et scientiæ diligentia facile probaret dissolvi. Quem, si in privatis locis aut publicis loquentem audieris, mixtam cum ejus sermone eloquentiam delectaberis advertere. Nec perpendi quemquam ejus lassum eloquiis; adeo nempe suaviter et argute concludit omnia.]

Ferrandus. Magna est itaque sapientis viri et dignissimi præsulis laus. Beatus iste populus est, talem ac tantum nactus pontificem.

Panescius. [O certe felicem hanc patriam cui præficitur dignus præsul, natus educatusque in eadem. Cognomen a sua villa sortitus, ut Thomas de Beckyntona communiter appelletur. Pauperum et clericorum amator; super afflictis pia semper gestans viscera; quam felix antistes! multorum enim tersit lacrymas, quorum oculos non vidit.]

Ferrandus. Quantis laudum igitur præconiis dignam putabimus illam beatam animam domini Fundatoris Willelmi, in cujus gremio non iste tantum præsul, sed et innumeri alii nobiles enutriti, tum pontifices, tum ecclesiarum decani, tum archilevitæ, ceterique prælati, obumbrantes capita principum ad illustrationem regni et lucem patriæ processerunt!

Ferrandus. Nihil superest modo nisi ut locum congruum eligamus ubi pax et quies erit: talis enim philosophis aptior est, quia animus quiescendo fit sapiens.

Panescius. Casu bene contigit, aut verius nutu Dei. Istam cujus prope astamus januam domum Thomas, hujus ecclesiæ Cancellarius simulque nostri collegii Oxoniæ custos, inhabitat. Vir quantum impensæ suppetunt liberalis quidem nostris literis eruditus: unde si quid habeamus quæstionis illi referre poterimus; quem in agendis discretum, in responsis providum, multiloquia vitantem reperia, usuque et experientia comprobabilis. [Ipse philosophos et omni literarum genere peritos valde habet acceptos. In illius hospicium declinemus; ego enim ejus humanitatem expertus quatuor annis quibus Oxoniæ regebat Cancellarius, nescio qua industria potitus, aut verius gratia, cum sit vir magnæ benignitatis et pietatis eximiæ, ita fuerat in gerendis rebus strenuus, ut solo nutu prima facie antequam ortæ essent, in gente ac tempore tam ferocibus, maximas pessimasque discordias pacificarat. Omnibus amabilem se præbuit; ab omnibus amari sibi vehemens cura ac studium semper fuit: ita ut quantum alii honores, quantum divitias ambiebant, tantum iste ab ineunte ætate amores hominum, atque sic ipsos homines, lucrari summopere conatus est; sapiens ac prudens pacis amator.]

Ferrandus. Quid ei muneris offeremus?

Panescius. Non est honoris cupidus, nec muneris ab inope libens acceptor: quid hæsitatis introire? audendo virtus crescit, tardando timor.

Annus hic primus et quadragesimus supra millesimum et quadringentesimum Christianæ salutis, variam, sicut et superiores, bellorum fortunam, sed ad extremum pacem habet, sicut insperatam ita maximis suspicionibus involutam. * * *

Tantæ vero lætitiæ pacis constitutæ, quam solidam et tantis malis finem allaturam crediderint populi, tam ingentis gaudii, quo omnis exultabat Italia, felicitati accessit Æthiopum patriarchæ oratorum adventus: pluris certe faciendus, quod quanti sint populi, quasque inhabitent regiones, quantumque habent potentæ, fuit hactenus maxima ex parte in Italia ignoratum. Unione Græcorum Armeniorumque apud Eugenium pontificem Romanum ingenti cum totius orbis admiratione, prout ostendimus, celebratis; incessit ejus patris animum cupido aliarum gentium, quas noverat in Asia et Affrica a fide catholica et sede apostolica multis sæculis deviasse, in suum et Romanæ ecclesiæ gremium ut perduceret intentandi: Et multis in id negotium magno quod scivimus impendio dimissis, cum mercatoribus suspicione carituris tum beatorum Francisci et Dominici ordinis religiosi, Alberto ex Sarthiano Etruriæ oppido, Senensi minoristæ, sacrorum

Christi dogmatum præconi ac celeberrimo oratori, pro sua provincia Æthiopiam demandavit: Qui, superatis difficultatibus atque etiam vitæ periculis, quæ maxima imprimis subeunt Christiani a Cypro Alexandriam et alia Palestinæ ac Assyriæ loca immanissimos inter efferacissimosque Christi hostes ingressuri, Carrum et Babilonem Ægypti pervenit, convenitque patriarcham gentis Æthiopum, centum ea in regione et quinquaginta hominum millia Sarracenis cohabitantia gubernantem, gerentemque in illos vicem jurisdictionis Zare Jacob Constantini regis universæ Æthiopiæ dominantis.¹ Eo cum patriarcha multos moratus dies, postquam satis quid animi et rex suus et ipse erga Romanum pontificem haberent intellexit, Hierosolimam descendens cum altero fuit Nicodemo abbate; cui similiter a patriarcha et rege Æthyopum cura in Palestina et Assyria est commissa. Accepit itaque quaternos ab utroque monachos, quorum unus genitorem haberet etiam viventem, triginta equitum millia sub rege suo ducentem; alter majoris illo potentatus viri, quem appellant officio regis Cancellarium, natus esset. Et mense quem a pontifice profectus erat vigesimo quarto illos Florentiam ducens ostendit; [si] ea qua oporteret cura negotio incumberetur, fore ut maxima innumerabilisque illa populorum multitudo Christianæ religionis et nominis Christiani redintegraretur dignitati: per cujus gentis potentiam postea facillimum foret, barbaros Christi hostes Hierosolima et sanctis Assyriæ locis quæ tamdiu occupant deturbare. Postquam summo honore deducti sunt in hospitium oratores, placuit pontifici et collegio eos diligentius accuratiusque interrogandos attribuere summis viris, Juliano Cæsarinæ gentis Romano, Sanctæ Sabinæ, Johanni Gallico Morenensi, et alteri Johanni de Turre Cremata Hispano presbyteris cardinalibus. Ea vero in re maximo fuit incommodo interpretum imperitia, quod eorum nullus doctrina vel mediocriter tinctus erat. Qua ratione de cæli aspectu, de climate, de æquinoctiali, de dierum noctiumque varietate, de alluentis oceani conditionibus, de eorum vetustatis et gestis rebus historia, et hujuscemodi multis, parum scite noverant respondere. De manifestis vulgo; Cæli temperiem eandem quam in Italia esse sentiant; et licet qui magis ad libem pertinent adusti ac nigri sint, multos tamen facie albos aut subfuscus pro regionum diversitate apud eos esse dixerunt; gignique eandem vel majorem frumenti, vini, olei et frugum vim. nere : et quum eis responderetur, quod tradit Ptolomæus, cœli terrarumque dimensor peritissimus, maximæ apud Græcos nostrosque auctoritatis, dirimi Æthiopiam ab Indya finibus Arabico Auleticoque et mari barbarico, ac provinciis Arabia, Perside, Parthia, Carimanicæque, dixerunt aut nos falli, aut aliam esse Indiam eis ad orientalem plagam confinem, cujus populi sint tanti, ut bellis prope continuis sui regis distineant potentatum. Rationem vero qua aut Romanorum rebus olim florentibus fuerint aut majoribus nostris incogniti, hanc afferunt, quod difficultas accessus omnes hactenus deterruerit; quum ab ultima parte regni Ægypti, quod nunc obtinet Babilonis et Chayri Soldanus, ad primam regis sui Æthiopum terram quinquaginta dierum itineris intercedant spatia, solis ardoribus et naturæ inclementia adeo aspera, ut cum solum necubi apparens sabulo tegatur altissimo, quod venti æque ac maris undas agitant, nedum aliquæ inhabitent gentes, sed nec feras aliquis transeuntes aut aves unquam videat transvolantes. Hinc quum Babilonem ipsi et Chayrum petere intendunt, camelos singuli binos ducunt; quorum uno advecti tentorium deferunt quo sub divo cubaturi tegantur, altero suum et utriusque jumentum perferunt commeatum, aquam præsertim, qua sitim maxime provocans regio imprimis caret. Quodque itineris difficultatem Arabas alpinos, et feris quidem hominibus vita ac moribus adsimillimos, illa dicunt insidere loca, qui solis parentes Æthiopibus, quorum formidant potentiam, ceteros omnes aut spoliant commeatu, quo deficiente miseri contabescunt, aut interficiunt repugnantes. De rege interrogati, cui apud nos et in Syria ac Ægypto presbytero Johanni est appellatio, responderunt: Eum qui indigne ferat hanc absurdam sibi natam appellationem, nomine proprio Zara Jacob, quod interpretari volunt Jacob prophetæ soboles, sed cognomine et simul dignitate Constantinum dici, tanquam virtute et potentia illi similem qui primus Romani Imperii sedem transtulit Bizantium, Flavio Constantino; cui suo regi sub-esse affirmant centum reges, majora singulos possidentes regna quam nostri Europæ, quorum diligenter narratum intelligerent potentatum. Exercitus autem sub ipso ^{Multitudo Æthiopum populorum.} militantis hanc intelleximus rationem: quod quingentos duces rei bellicæ habeat, quorum singuli quinqueginta equitum millibus præsent stipendia facientibus. Quum tamen illi non inermes et inculti aut solo arcu armati, quales in Assyria viderunt, sed cathafracti et ornati sint splendidi, quales ex nostris aliquos vidisse dixerunt: et licet galea caput solaque lorica tegant corpus, crura eodem quo et equum pedes tenus muniunt tegumento, corio, ita apte facto, ut quum ferri ictus sustineat non impediatur equi motum. Arcu etiam suos multum uti asserunt: quo tamen sunt multo quam Assyrii meliores. De comitatibus quæ dixerunt superioribus respondeat: Aliam exercitus magnitudinem abundanter. Et quum singuli duces suis provideant, apparatus curiæ regis quotidianum altilia boves tria milia requirere: tum decem millia adhibeantur quando convivium dari aut comitatus contigerit celebrari. Nec vero ignoramus hæc talia esse, quæ multi impossibilia, plurimi somni et fabularum contendunt quam historiæ digniora. Sed velim mecum considerent, quis est Albertus Sarthianensis; homo certe quum doctus religiosissimusque, tum etiam in rebus sæculi prudentissimus; qui quum a viris magnæ auctoritatis et famæ, patriarcha et abbate, eadem audita referat; quum monachos deduxerit selectissimos; debet res ipsas reddere persuasibiles, nisi forte nihil addent ad persuasionem cardinales; tales certe viri qui pro virtutis magnitudine non magis ornantur cardinalatu quam ipsi exornent fastigium dignitatis. Contendunt vero multi Romæ et Græcæ historiæ peritiores, hæc ipsa quæ nulla ex parte aut scribant aut indicent scriptores pro falsis commentitiisque habenda; et Ptolomæum opponunt peritissimum orbis terrarum descriptorem, qui post Meroem Nili insulam et parvam vel minimam Æthiopiæ rerum narrationem, quicquid Africa tertia orbis pars a Mediterraneo mari remotum habet pro terra Æthiopiæ incognita et mare item adjacens describit incognitum. Hinc quum nullos existiment¹ populos ultra² cognitam Ptolomæo Æthiopiam esse, quibus Zareiacob Constantini maximis ille opponatur exercitus, falsa esse arguunt quæ de ipsius multitudine apparatusque dicuntur. Sed Ptolomæum scimus pervidemusque multa sub arcto ignorasse nostris nominibus nunc nobisque notissima. Quandoquidem ultra oceanum Britannicum, ubi et mare et terram ponit incognitam, quinquaginta insulas Christianis populis frequentatas adeo habemus notas, ut eorum episcopi, quem ab Eugenio Romano pontifice acceperunt, populorumque ipsorum oratores, nunc in Romana curia videamus, de sede episcopi, non in unica, prout hactenus fuit, sed in insularum plerisque alternatim constituenda litigio contententes: certissimosque habemus³ auctores eo in litore Britannico ubi Ptolomæus terram ponit incognitam, sinum esse maritimum Adriatico prope parem; populis⁴ licet parum cultis sed Christianis undique frequentatum. Qui itaque minimam et primam Æthiopiæ partem quæ continet Ægipto solam cognovit Ptolomæus, non potuit quæ ultra sunt regiones et regna non ignorare. Sed ne hæc conjecturis potius quam certa et maxima affirmemus auctoritate, facit sacra historia Veteris Testamenti, in cujus secundus libro Paralippomenon habetur, Zara Æthiopiæ cum decies centenis millibus venisse contra Asam Judææ regem; qui licet de Juda haberet trecenta milia et de Benjamin ducenta et octoginta, tantam tamen Æthiopum multitudinem suo diffusus exercitu, Dei auxilium implorabat. Et quod ad provincias et regiones Ptolomæo incognitas facere videtur, in libri Ester principio ha-

Quum itaque nedum centum viginti sed vix quatuor, ad summum sex provincias Æthiopam inter et Indiam, transmisso etiam sinu Arabico, Ptolomæus ponat, reliquum videtur esse ut aliæ sint quibuscum Æthiopes bella gerant. Sed longe nimis digressi sumus ab ea quam instituimus solidiori rerum Æthiopiæ narratione. Confirmationem non norunt; Eucharistiam quibus et nostri verbis conficiunt; et pœnitentiam confitentibus imponunt: sed unctionem extremam dixerunt sibi alias inauditam. Christianæ ascribendi militiæ quemadmodum et nostri, eodemque ritu, sacris initiantur; qui septem singulis diei horis ex officio Psalmos dicunt. Veteris prophetarum legis et novæ Domini Jesu Christi dogmata tenent, earumque libris utuntur. Pentateucho Moyseos, libris Regum, Psalterio et libris Salomonis, quos plures quam nos, immo omnes a Salomone scriptos habere dixerunt; Hieremiam, item Ezechielem; Esaiam; et duodecim minores Prophetas noverunt, et pariter quatuor Evangelia. Scriptorum vero libros apud se esse dixerunt, ex Græcis, Cyrilli, Gregorii Nazanseni, Athanasii, Basilii, Joannis Chrysostomi; et ex nostris, quædam Aurelii Augustini. In ecclesiasticis etiam ordines sunt qui et apud nostros; psalmodicus, lectoratus, subdiaconatus, diaconatus, et presbyteralis: Patriarcham habent et metropolitam unum; et in tanta gentis multitudine episcopos vix quinque; ad quos initiorum die tantus est concursus, ut quum multi ex itineris longitudine intereant; plurimi in ea quæ sit episcopo offerentium pressura elisi cadant, et a multitudine conculcentur. Ædes sacras et templa habent, haudquaquam nostris magnitudine et ornatu paria; præter regiam sædem quam majorem ornatuque splendidiorem esse affirmant quam sint reparatæ Virginis Florentina altaria. Ut nostri, lineis aurum gemmasque intextis sternunt, sed plura adhibent luminaria. Thuri autem addunt aromata, quibus asserunt nos carere. Ostia utuntur fermentata orbiculataque; quam elevant populo inspiciendam: quum sanguinis calicem retineant pro altari. Symbolum Græco more absque "Filioque" singulis horis dicunt. Dominum Iesum interrogati dixerunt verum Deum et verum hominem fuisse; et in Eo duas fuisse naturas et duas pariter voluntates. Inquiunt cogi confitentes peccata ad restitutionem ablati; et usuram apud eos esse peccatum, nec licere quovismodo quicquam præter mutuatam sortem accipere. Matrimonia servant, quæ suis permitti dicunt quam primum annos discretionis attigerint; et quando principes aut magni viri spondent invicem liberos infantes, non licere adultis a parentum sponsione discedere: contrahique in templo, sacerdote solemniter ad id instituta Psalmorum carmina præeunte; et quum unicam tantum etiam regi habere permittatur, ea mortua alteram et tertiam, nec plures habere permitti: Mulieribusque pariter prohibitum ne ultra quam tria attingant vota. tionem exhibere in facie complementum, vocatis ad hoc primitus in genere omnibus quorum interest, ipsisque publice ad instantem procuracionem magistri Ricardi procuratoris prædicti de mandato nostro præconizatis, ac nullo contradictore in ea parte occurrente aut quicquam allegante seu proponente quare petitioni ipsius magistri Ricardi procuratoris, satisfacere minime deberemus, facta per nos juxta juris exigentiam præclusionione in genere quibuscunque contra præmissa quicquam opponendi, obijciendi seu allegandi in futurum, præmissa causæ cognitione in hoc casu, requisitus prædictam Bullam apostolicam cum notario et testibus infrascriptis inspeximus, palpavimus et diligenter examinavimus, ac clausulam ipsius bullæ superscriptam publice perlegi fecimus. Et quia dictam Bullam sanctissimi patris supradicti cum filo serico more Romanæ Curie bullatam, veram, sanam et integram bullam apostolicam, non abolitam, non abrasam, non cancellatam, nec in aliqua sui parte vitiosam vel suspectam, imo omni prorsus vitio et sinistra suspicione carentem comperimus, idcirco clausulam ipsius bullæ de qua superius fit mentio, prædictis Custodi et studentibus sive collegiatis propter casus prædictos probationis copia contentorum in clausula memorata postmodum conferatur ad omnem juris effectum qui inde sequi poterit, ad perpetuam rei memoriam, auctoritate nobis in hac parte commissa, publicavimus ac per magistrum Willelmum Langton notarium publicum, et nostrum in hac parte scribam, in formam publicam exemplari, transsumi et transscribi voluimus et mandavimus; statuimus insuper et decrevimus quod transsumpto, transcripto et exemplari hujusmodi, quatenus ad ipsam clausulam attinet, tanta fides adhibeatur et adhiberi debeat ubicunque, tam in judicio quam extra, quanta fides adhiberetur clausulæ supradictæ si præfata Bulla apostolica alicubi præferretur. In quorum omnium præmissorum testimonium atque fidem, quod sigillum nostrum pluribus est incognitum, ideo præsentem litteras nostras sive præsens publicum instrumentum appen-sione sigilli reverendi viri Magistri Roberti Ayscogh, in sacra Theologia licenciati, archidiaconi Colcestræ Londonensis diocesis, una cum signo et subscriptione præfati Magistri Willelmi Langton notarii publici, procuravimus et fecimus communiri. Et nos Robertus Ayscogh, in sacra Theologia licenciatus, archidiaconus Colcestræ Londonensis diocesis, ad instantem petitionem Magistri Johannis Hoby commissarii antedicti, sigillum nostrum præsentibus apposuimus, in fidem et testimonium præmissorum. Acta sunt hæc prout superscribuntur et recitantur, coram nobis Johanne Hoby commissario antedicto, in ecclesia parochiali Sancti Sepulchri villæ Cantabrigiæ, infra jurisdictionem dicti domini archidiaconi Eliensis publice pro tribunali sedente, sub anno ab incarnatione Domini millesimo cccc^oxl^olii^o, indictione sexta, pontificatus sanctissimi in Christo patris et domini nostri domini Eugenii divina providentia papæ quarti anno tertio decimo, mensis Junii die tertia decima; præsentibus discretis viris Magistris Adam Coppendale in legibus Bacallario, Dionisio Bank notario publico, Willelmo Howytt et Willelmo Wellys, literatis Eboracensis diocesis, testibus ad præmissa vocatis specialiter et rogatis.

Et ego Willelmus Langton, clericus Eboracensis diocesis, publicus auctoritate apostolica notarius, præfati Magistri Johannis Hoby commissarii in præmissis actuum scriba supradictus, requisitioni Bullæque apostolicæ exhibitioni reali, præsentationi ac ipsius inspectioni, palpationi, examinationi, publicationi, decreti interpositioni et pronuntiationi, ceterisque præmissis omnibus et singulis, dum sic, ut præmittitur, per præfatum commissarium et coram eo, sub anno Domini, indictione, pontificatu, mense, die et loco prædictis agebantur et fiebant, una cum prænominatis testibus præsens personaliter interfui; eaque omnia et singula sic fieri vidi et audivi, dictamque bullam apostolicam originalem quoad præscriptam clausulam, sicut præmittitur, transsumptam et exemplatam cum præsentis ipsius clausulæ transsumpto et exemplari diligenter examinavi, et de ipsis adinvicem collationem feci fidelem, et quod collatione hujusmodi facta reperi præsens transsumptum cum clausula supradicta in præfata Bulla originaliter inserta, de verbo in verbum in omnibus concordare, idcirco præsens transsumptum manu mea propria fideliter scriptum de mandato dicti domini commissarii publicavi et in hanc publicam formam redegi, meisque signo et nomine consuetis una cum appensione sigilli dicti reverendi viri archidiaconi Colcestriæ signavi rogatus et requisitus in fidem et testimonium omnium præmissorum.

Licentia ad mortizandum manerium de Burston. Henricus Dei gratia Rex Angliae et Franciae et dominus Hiberniae, omnibus ad quos praesentes litterae pervenerint salutem. Sciatis, quod de gratia nostra speciali concessimus et licentiam dedimus dilecto servienti nostro Johanni Ffray, capitali baroni de seaccario nostro, quod ipse manerium suum de Burstonhalle cum pertinentiis, in parochiis beati Petri et Sancti Stephani infra villam de Sancto Albano in comitatu Hertfordiæ, quod de abbate et conventu monasterii Sancti Albani tenetur, et valorem viginti marcarum per annum ultra reprisas non excedit, dare possit et concedere Johanni abbati dicti monasterii Sancti Albani et conventui ejusdem loci habendum et tenendum sibi et successoribus suis imperpetuum. Et eisdem abbati et conventui et successoribus suis, quod ipsi manerium prædictum cum pertinentiis de dono prædicti Johannis Ffray capere et recipere possint. Habendum et tenendum sibi et successoribus suis imperpetuum, ad exorandum pro bona sanitate nostra dum vixerimus et pro anima nostra cum ab hac luce migraverimus, ac pro animabus nobilium progenitorum nostrorum, necnon in auxilium et supportationem certarum onerum spiritualium pro animabus dicti Johannis Ffray ac parentum et amicorum suorum per præfatos abbatem et conventum et successores suos faciendum imperpetuum, quæ inter præfatum Johannem Ffray et præfatos abbatem et conventum et successores suos erunt concordata. Statuto de terris et tenementis ad manum mortuam non ponendis vel aliquo alio statuto in contrarium facto non obstante; dum tamen per inquisitionem coram escatore nostro comitatus prædicti capiendam compertum sit quod manerium prædictum cum pertinentiis de nobis immediate non teneatur, nec valorem viginti marcarum per annum excedat. In cujus rei testimonium has literas nostras fieri fecimus patentes. Teste meipso apud manerium nostrum de Eltham, vicesimo die Decembris anno regni nostri sextodecimo.

Perquisitionem manerii de Radewell, vide quarto folio sequenti.

[This is not here given, as its purport is the same with the preceding. It is followed by a similar grant to the Abbey; and at the end of the Charter of Donation the following note is appended:—]

Hic est signanter inter cetera retinendum in memoria, quomodo supradictus vir devotus Baro de scaccario capitalis in tantum abbati Johanni sexto gratus fuerat et amicabile, ut ob honorem Dei et ipsius contemplationem ac amorem villas pro amortizatione dictorum maneriorum de Burston et de Radewelle domino regi porrigeret, demumque licet non absque maxima difficultate licentiam impetraret. Et quia tam gratus fuerat et tam benevolus ac etiam in venditione sic favorabilis, quod licet interpellatores haberet varios ad immutandum propositum suum in causa venditionis, mutare tamen noluit; immo ut vir fidus et fidelis, quod dicto abbati promisit verbo, facto effectualiter adimplevit. Ideo de assensu sui conventus, concessit ei dictus abbas quandam perpetuitatem suffragiorum. Cujus perpetuitatis tenor insertur expresse satis in registro supradicti jam abbatis.

A.D. 1409. Excellentissimo Principi domino Ruperto, Dei gratia Romanorum Regi semper Augusto, fratri nostro carissimo, Henricus, eadem gratia Rex Angliæ et Franciæ, et Dominus Hiberniæ, salutem, et in continuorum prosperitate successuum exultare. Excellentissime princeps, frater carissime, replevit amaritudine mentem nostram vestrarum inspectio literarum, quas honorabilis et discretus vir magister Johannes de Franckenfordia nobis ultimo præsentavit: Nam in illarum exordio narrationum pariter et conclusione, stili vehementer egregii venustate conspicuis, doloris acerbitas una cum consolationis temperamento miscetur. Dolor, inquam, immensus et merito personabat ex eo quod dilectissima filia nostra, nurus vestra, superioris Ducis Imperio ducta, et vocata, in patriam quæ iter est omnium generale mortalium necessitate vocata, humanitatis commune debitum, quod exceptio allegata quævis provocat ex inevitabili lege facilitatis,² exsolvit. Sibi ipsi gratulatur de adventu uxoris suæ, filię Regis Anglię.

Illustrissime et gloriosissime princeps et domine metuende, post humilem pronumque obsequendi affectum, serenitati vestrę significo, quod mox intellecto illustrem et magnificam dominam Blanchiam vestrę celsitudinis filiam, tunc sponsam, nunc vero conjugem meam dulcissimam, maria solemniter apparatu transfretasse, in his quę dicta sunt mihi lætatus sum, tunc autem vero præ gaudio exultaverunt omnia interiora mea, cum se facies illa tam speciosa præ filiabus hominum mihi ad faciem præsentavit; fulget namque in ea nedum Anglicana, sed angelica figura præelecta, cujus vultum utique deprecabuntur omnes divites plebis. Unde amore ego præ cæteris languens solo relatu a pluribus jam temporibus citra ex animo concupivi speciem suam; nec frustra, quoniam desiderium cordis mei tribuistis mihi, et voluntate labiorum meorum non sum fraudatus. Itaque, princeps serenissime, gratiarum ad plenum actiones pro tam copioso et singularissimo munere mihi licet immerito superna dispositione reservato, et a regali excellentia destinato rescire non valeo, sed meipsum et quicquid possum, regiis vestris desideriis ac jussibus, omnino subjicio, præfatam amantissimam consortem meam juxta rei exigentiam omni qua potero dulcedine tractaturus. ## BIOGRAPHICAL INDEX.

- ALBERT II., Emperor, son of Albert IV., duke of Austria, born in 1394, married Elizabeth, only daughter of the emperor Sigismund, in whose right he became king of Hungary and Bohemia, and was elected emperor on the death of his father-in-law, March 20, 1438. He died October 27, 1439.
- AMADEUS VIII., born 1383, succeeded his father as count of Savoy, November 1, 1391. Elected pope, by the Council of Bâle, after the deposition of Eugenius IV. He was crowned July 24, 1440, under the name of Felix V. He abdicated the Popedom in 1449, and died at Geneva, January 7th, 1451.
- ANGEVIN, Bernard, registrar of the Supreme Court of Bordeaux; then member of the king's council; afterwards lord of Rauzan, Pujols, Blazimont: one of the subscribers of the capitulation of 1451. An associate of Bekynton during his sojourn at Bordeaux (ii. 193).
- ARDICINUS de la Porta, of a noble family of Novara (Novariensis) in Lombardy, was present at the council of Constance, and after holding several minor offices in the household of Pope Martin V., was made cardinal deacon, tit. SS. Cosmas and Damian, in 1426. In 1431 he was appointed by the crown to the archdeaconry of Northampton, and died in 1434. See Introduction, p. xcviii., note 1, and vol. ii. p. 251.
- ARUNDEL, Thomas (properly Fitz Alan), second son of Richard, third earl of Arundel and Warren, educated at Oriel College, Oxford; archdeacon of Taunton in 1373. Appointed by the pope to the see of Ely in 1374, being then 22 years old and only a subdeacon. In 1388 he was translated to York, and in 1396 to Canterbury. In the 10th year of Richard II., A.D. 1386, he was made chancellor of England. For his dispute with the University of Oxford, see Introduction, pp. lxi-xli. He completed the chapel of Oriel College, Oxford, commenced by his father. He died February 20th, 1413.
- ASHTON, Richard, al. Ayscheton; appointed abbot of Peterboro', September 1438, which office he held until June 27th, 1471, when he resigned it into the hands of the bishop of Lincoln. See further, Introduction, p. lxxiii. and note 1.

- BARBUS, Petrus, a Venetian, maternal nephew of Pope Eugenius IV., by whom he was successively appointed to several bishoprics, and created cardinal deacon of Sta. Maria Nova, July 1st, 1440, and afterwards cardinal priest of S. Mark by Nicolas V., and cardinal bishop of S. Peter. He was commonly styled cardinal of Venice. On the death of Pius II., August 1464, he was elected pope, and assumed the name of Paul II. He died of apoplexy, July 28th, 1471.
- BATUTE, John de, canon and archdeacon of S. Antonine, in the church of Our Lady of Rodez, secretary to the count of Armagnac, and his envoy to England, to negociate the marriage of his daughter to Henry VI. He returned with the king's envoys to Bordeaux, and was in constant correspondence with them during their residence there. Vol. ii. pp. 188 seqq.
- BAZAS, Bishop of; Gaillard II. of Latrave or Préchac, was appointed bishop of Bazaz in 1434, and translated to Toulouse in 1446, when he was created cardinal. He was a partizan of England, and visited Bekynton during his stay in Bordeaux: ii. 186. Another authority gives his name as Henri-François de Cavier.
- BEAUFORT, Henry, third son of John of Gaunt by Catherine Swinford, consecrated bishop of Lincoln, July 14th, 1398, translated to Winchester in 1405. Commonly known as cardinal of England. Was papal legate; thrice chancellor of England. He died April 11th, 1447.
- BECK. In the Registers of the Great Towers of Bordeaux, published in the "Archives historiques de la Gironde," tome ix., is frequent mention of William Bec, an official of Bordeaux and former judge of appeals of Gascony. An adviser of Bekynton during his mission at Bordeaux. (ii. 193.)
- BERLAND, Pey, archbishop of Bordeaux at the time of Bekynton's mission. He was appointed in 1430, and resigned in 1456. He was a warm partizan of England, and undertook an expedition to England during the stay of the English envoys at Bordeaux. Vol. ii. pp. 185, 186. He died January 17th, 1458.
- BERMINGHAM, Fulke, probably of the noble family of the earls of Lowth, in the Irish peerage. He held large ecclesiastical preferment in England, having prebends in the cathedrals of Lincoln, London, and York, and was appointed archdeacon of Oxford in 1444. He was one of several recommended for degrees in the University of Oxford by Royal Letters. See Introduction, p. lxxii.; vol. i. pp. 100-102.

BERNARD DE PLANCHA. The letter of Henry VI. to Pope Eugenius (vol. i. p. 32) on behalf of this deposed bishop of Dax receives dubious light from contemporaneous records. Rymer (Fœd. tom. x. p. 793) gives a brief of Henry VI., dated July 13, a. r. r. 18 (A.D. 1440) addressed to John earl of Huntingdon, lieutenant of the dukedom of Aquitaine, in the matter of the dispute between Bernardus de Plancha, late bishop of Dax, and Guiscardus de Lax, having jus episcopatus by provision of Pope Eugenius. The whole city is in great tribulation, and the king, by way of remedy, directs his lieutenant to maintain the cause of the pope's nominee. This is answered by Sir Thomas Ramston, seneschal of the duchy of Guyenne, under date August 1st, a. r. r. 19 (1441). He had received the king's letter on July 21st, i.e. more than a year after date (Rymer, Fœd. x. p. 850, 851). It appears from the tenor of the king's orders that he had been misinformed as to the truth of the matter. The city and clergy of Dax are subject to the pope in spiritual, to the king in temporal matters. They had appealed to the king's lieutenant and also to the pope against Sire Guissarn de la Segne (the pope's nominee), of the turbulent conduct of whose party in the interval the seneschal complains. The letter in vol. i. p. 32, written in the interval, dated Feb. 6th, a. r. r. 19 (i.e. A.D. 1441, N. S.), seems to intimate that the truth had already come to the knowledge of the king's advisers, who were now evidently disposed to take the side of the ejected bishop.

BLANCHE, daughter of king Henry IV., married to Lewis, son of Rupert, count palatine of the Rhine, in 1402; supposed to have died in 1409. For the difficulties attending the payment of her dowry, see Introduction, pp. cxii-cxv.

BLONDUS, Flavius, Forliviensis, Biondo of Forli, secretary to Pope Eugenius IV., a correspondent of Bekynton (see General Index). His contemporaneous history of Italy is thus spoken of by a writer of the time: "Blondus Flavius Forliviensis, vir in scribendo æque exercitatus ac doctus, tribus decadibus suis jam magna ex parte editis multa . . . recentia felici stylo complexus est." (Muratori Rer. Ital. Script. tom. xix. 629). He was also author of other historical works, entitled Roma triumphans, Roma Instaurata, &c.

CAUNTON, Richard, one of Henry VIth's proctors in the court of Rome, in the matter of the Eton Bulls. A friend and correspondent of Bekynton. (See General Index.)

CHICHELEY, Henry, son of Thomas Chichele, of Higham Ferrers, Northamptonshire. Educated at Winchester, and became fellow of New College, Oxford in 1387. After holding many preferments, chiefly in the diocese of Salisbury, he was appointed bishop of S. David's in 1409, and translated to Canterbury in 1414. He died April 12th, 1443. He founded All Souls' College, Oxford, in 1438. His resistance to the usurpations of Pope Martin V. is narrated in the Introduction, pp. xcii-xcviii.

CLUX. Hertong van Clux (i. 86, 96), called also Hertong van Clux (i. 166), Hertang van Clux (i. 187, 245). In 1417 Sir Hertenke Van Cloup (sic) was appointed by Henry VI. "capetayne of the towne and castelle at Creuly." In the account of his retinue he is called Hartonke Vonclux (Henrici Vti Gesta, p. 275., com. p. 115, note 1, and for his Retinue p. 269, Ed. Hist. Soc.) He was made knight of the Garter by Henry V., and in his brass in the 9th stall at S. George's, Windsor, is styled Mons. Heer tanke Clux. There is a letter of his in English, dated April 28th, 1422, preserved by Rymer (tom. x. 208), written to Henry V. as ambassador to the emperor, signed Heretong Clux. In 1440 he was sent on a similar embassy to the emperor and the archbishop of Cologne, in company with William Swan. Rymer, x. 769, 770.

COMANUS, Cardinal, Gerardus de Capitaneis, cardinal archbishop of Como. See vol. i. p. 48, note.

D'Ailly. Petrus de Alliaco, a native of Picardy, in France, a learned theologian and a voluminous author. He was chancellor of the University of Paris, and among his pupils was the more celebrated John Gerson. He held several ecclesiastical preferments in France, and was sent on many diplomatic missions. He and Gerson attended Cardinal Lewis, Duc de Bar (Dux Barrensis), to the synod of Pisa, in 1409. He was promoted to the cardinalate by Pope John XXIII., under the title of S. Chrysogonus, but was commonly called Cardinalis Cameracensis, as bishop of Cambray. He voted at the election of Pope Martin V. in the council of Constance, 1417. He was named, for his learning and his works, The Eagle of Franco and the Unwearied Hammer. He died at Paris, in August 1425.

EDMUND (HOLLAND), earl of Kent, succeeded his brother Thomas, killed in 1400. He was married to Lucia Visconti at Southwark. January 24th. cir. 1406. appointed to the office of first admiral in 1408, and died in the same year from a wound received in the storming of the castle of Briak (probably Saint Briec), on the coast of Brittany.

EUGENIUS IV., Pope. Gabriel Condolonerius, a Venetian, born A.D. 1383. He was appointed bishop of Siena in 1407 by Pope Gregory XII., his maternal uncle; and in 1408 clerk of the closet, and treasurer; in which year he was also made presbyter cardinal of S. Clement, against the wishes of the College of Cardinals. He was much employed on important business of state by Pope Martin V., on whose death, in February 1431, he was elected pope. He died in February 1447.

FOIX, Gaston de; Captal de Buch; son of Archambaud de Grailly, count of Foix and Benauges. Captal—Captau in Gascon—was the title peculiar to the chiefs or lords of La Testede, Buch, and Trainé, in Gascony. See Longeville. He was a strong partizan of England, and intimate with Bekynton during his visit to Bordeaux, ii. 193, &c.

GERSON, John, properly Jean Charlier, adopted the name of his birth-place Jarson or Gersen, a small hamlet near Rethel, in the diocese of Rheims. He was born in 1363, and was made chancellor of the church and university of Paris in 1393, much distinguished as a theological writer, and for the part he took in the controversies of the day. He was one of the representatives of the university of Paris in the Council of Constance, in which capacity he addressed a letter to Pope Benedict XIII., in conjunction with his colleague Pierre D'Ailly, who signs as P. Cardinalis Cameracensis (Bp. of Cambray), Gerson as Cancellarius Parisiensis (vol. i. p. 108). It is dated only July 18th, but as it was written after the resignation of Gregory XII., July 4th, 1415, it is fixed to that year. Gerson died July 12th, 1429, aged 66 years.

GROOS, Bernardus de. The Registers of the Great Towers of Bordeaux of 1456 and 1459 record a prosecution of Bernard de Garos, knight, lord of Bessan in Médoc. An associate of Bekynton, at Bordeaux; ii. 196.

HUMPHREY, DUKE OF GLOUCESTER. Fourth son of King Henry IV., born in 1391. Created duke of Gloucester in 1414. Protector of England during the minority of Henry VI. He was a great patron of learning and art; was (probably) murdered at Bury S. Edmunds, Feb. 24th, 1447.

ISIDORUS, described as "formerly abbat of S. Dimicius, but now "archbishop of Russia" (ii. 23). A native of Thessalonica, a monk of S. Basil and abbat of S. Demetrius at Constantinople; was present as archbishop of the Russians in the Council of Florence, where he was created presbyter cardinal (tit. SS. Peter and Marcellinus) by Pope Eugenius IV. On his return to Russia as a preacher of the union, he was insulted and imprisoned at Moscow, from whence he escaped to Rome, and was sent by the pope to Constantinople, to endeavour to establish the union. There he remained under Pope Nicolas V., and was there at the capture of the city by the Turks, when he saved his life by an artifice, but was made prisoner. He purchased his liberty and returned to Rome, where he died titular patriarch of Constantinople, April 27th, 1463.

LONGEVILLE (Longueville), Viscount, son of Gaston de Foix, Captal de Buch, created count of Longueville (in Normandy) by Henry V. Like his father he was a leader of the English party in Bordeaux, and fought on that side at Saint-Loubés (ii. 204, 235). He afterwards married a niece of the duke of Suffolk, and was created earl of Kendal, and knight of the garter.

LUCIA VISCONTI. Tenth legitimate daughter of Barnabo, lord of Milan. Was married to Edmund Holland, earl of Kent, January 24th, 1406. Naturalized, May 4th, 1408 (Rymer, tom. viii. p. 526); had her husband's possessions by royal grant, December 1st, 1408 (ibid. p. 562), her husband having died intestate and in debt, and her dowry of 70,000 florins never having been paid (ibid. ix. 121). The marriage contracts are given by Rymer (tom. x. pp. 135-142), and are dated March, 1405, 6. She died April 14th, 1423 (ibid. x. 316.)

LUDOVICUS SCARAMPUS, bishop of Trau. See vol. i. p. 11. note. He was much employed by Pope Eugenius IV., and was placed by Pope Callixtus III. in command of the fleet, which he equipped against the Turks.

LYNDEWOOD, William, probably of Lynwood, in the county of York. Studied in Gonville Hall, in Cambridge, and became a fellow of Pembroke. He was ordained deacon, March 15th, 1403; and priest, March 12th, 1406. He held many preferments, and was appointed chaplain and official to the archbishop, and dean of the Court of Arches in 1417, which office he resigned in 1430. He was also prolocutor in Convocation. He was keeper of the privy seal to Henry V., by whom he was employed on several embassies to Spain, Portugal, and other countries. He was promoted to the see of S. David's in 1442, and died in 1446 (vol. i. 1). He is said to have finished his Provinciale in 1433.

- MARTIN V., Pope. Otho de Columna, of a noble Roman family, born A.D. 1368. After practising law in Perugia, he was appointed protonotary and referendary to Pope Urban VI.; apostolic nuntio in Italy by Boniface IX.; deacon cardinal, (tit. Sti. Georgii in Velabro.) by Innocent VII., in 1405. His moderation in the Council of Constance, amidst the prevalent factions and partizanship, drew to him the favourable notice of the emperor Sigismund, of the cardinals, and other electors, and on the 3rd of the ides of November, 1417, he was elected pope; and that day being the festival of S. Martin of Tours, the newly-elected pope assumed his name. He died of apoplexy, February 21st, 1431.
- PAYNE, Peter, alias Clerk. A native of Haugh or Hough, in Lincolnshire, 3 miles from Grantham. Studied at Oxford, and became principal of Edmund Hall and of White Hall in 1410. He was a staunch champion of the doctrines of Wyclif and Huss, which he defended in a long disputation of 50 days' duration in the Council of Bâle, in 1435. He also wrote many works in support of the same opinions. He died at Prague in 1455, having somehow escaped the fate which was threatened him by King Henry VI.'s advisers, Vol. i. 187, 188.
- PHILIP MARIA VISCONTI, son of John Galeas, duke of Milan. He succeeded his brother John Maria in the dukedom in 1412, and died in 1447, leaving no heir. He was succeeded, after an interval of commotion, by Francis Sforza.
- POWNS, Lord James, Sire de Pons, nephew of George I. de la Tremouilla, the favorite and minister of Charles VII., a part of whose army he commanded in Gascony in 1442 (vol. ii. 187.)
- RAMPSTON, or Ramston, Sir Thomas. In command of St. Sever when taken by the French (ii. 187), when he was made prisoner. He had besieged and taken Guise in 1424, with John of Luxembourg, after which he met with a gracious welcome from the Regent Bedford at Paris. In 1441 he was seneschal of the duchy of Guienne. (Rymer, x. 850, 51.)
- REFINGDON, Philip, or Repyngdon. Educated at Pembroke College, Oxford; abbat of the Augustinian House of S. Mary de Pré, Leicester, from 1393 to 1404. Chancellor of the University of Oxford in 1397, and again in 1400, 1401, and 1402. In a document of May 5th, 1400, relating to the University statutes, he is styled "Clericus specialissimus" "illustrissimi principis D. Regis Henrici" and "Vir potens" "et Deum timens, amans veritatem et detestans avari“ tiam, &c.” Early in life he wrote in defence of Wyclif’s opinions; but afterwards, in 1382, retracted publicly at Paul’s Cross. He was made bishop of Lincoln, in succession to Henry Beaufort, in 1405, and resigned the see, May 12th, 1420. In 1408 he was made cardinal of SS. Nereus and Achilles by Pope Gregory XII. He was still living in 1434. For his letter to King Henry IV., see Introduction, pp. lxi., lxii.

ROSAN, Sieur de. See Angevin, Bernard.

ROVARELLA, BARTHOLOMEW DE, a native of Ferrara, chamberlain to Pope Eugenius IV., by whom he was appointed archbishop of Ravenna. In 1461 he was created cardinal of S. Clement by Pope Pius II., by whom he was much employed in important diplomatic missions. He had been sent on an embassy to England by Pope Nicolas V. He died at Rome in the 70th year of his age, May 2nd, 1476, and was buried in the church of S. Clement. He was a friend and correspondent of Bekynton, and active in forwarding his promotion. Vol. i. 173. 241.

SAY, William. A friend of Bekynton’s; the same, probably, whose name occurs in the earliest register of Winchester College (see vol. i. xxiii. note 2, cxviii.), as admitted there in 1406. 7. and at New college, Oxford, five years later. He accompanied Bekynton from Henley-on-Thames to Exeter, when he set out for Bordeaux, ii. 177-179. He was at Canterbury during Bekynton’s mission to Calais in 1438, but does not appear to have held any appointment in the cathedral there.

SAY, William. Entered at Winchester in 1425, and at New College, Oxford, two years later (vol. i. cxviii.). He was proctor of the University in 1441, prebendary of York in 1443, of London in 1447; dean of S. Paul’s in 1457; archdeacon of Northampton in 1464; and died in 1468. For his eulogy as proctor, see i. 207.

SHORTHOSE, Gailerd; Gadifer Shortoise, Seigneur de Genissac, was mayor of Bordeaux from A.D. 1432 to 1450, consequently during the stay of the envoys in that city in 1442 and 1443 (vol. ii. p. 185). For his insolent disloyalty to the English crown, see ii. 204. He was one of the subscribers to the capitulation of June 12th, 1451.

SIMON DE TARANO, of Tirsamo, LL.D. Apostolic nuncio and papal collector in England, in July, 1421; Rymer, x. 135. In the sixth year of Pope Martin V. (A.D. 1423) he was appointed papal collector in Ireland. See the Bull in Theiner's Collection of Bulls relating to Scotland and Ireland.

SIGISMUND. Son of the Emperor Charles IV., born June 28th, 1368. Became king of Hungary by right of marriage with Mary, daughter and heir of Lewis the Great, in 1386. Elected emperor, Sept. 20th, 1410, and again June 21st, 1411. He succeeded his brother Wenceslaus as king of Bohemia in 1419. He died at Znaim in Moldavia, December 9th, 1437, and was succeeded in his three crowns by his son-in-law, Albert II. of Austria.

THEODORIC DE MEURS, archbishop of Cologne. See vol. i. p. 36 note.

CALENDARS OF STATE PAPERS, &c.

As far back as the year 1800, a Committee of the House of Commons commended that Indexes and Calendars should be made to the Public Records, and thirty-six years afterwards another Committee of the House of Commons reiterated that recommendation in more forcible words; but it was not until the incorporation of the State Paper Office with the Public Record Office that the present Master of the Rolls found himself in a position to take the necessary steps for carrying out the wishes of the House of Commons.

On 7 December 1855, he stated to the Lords of the Treasury that although the Records, State Papers, and Documents in his charge constitute the most complete and perfect series of their kind in the civilized world," and though "they are of the greatest value in a historical and constitutional point of view, yet they are comparatively useless to the public, from the want of proper Calendars and Indexes."

Acting upon the recommendations of the Committees of the House of Commons above referred to, he suggested to the Lords of the Treasury that to effect the object he had in view it would be necessary for him to employ a few persons fully qualified to perform the work which he contemplated.

Their Lordships assented to the necessity of having Calendars prepared and printed, and empowered the Master of the Rolls to take such steps as might be necessary for this purpose.

The following Works have been already published under the direction of the Master of the Rolls :—

CALENDARIVM GENEALOGICVM ; for the Reigns of Henry III. and Edward I.
Edited by CHARLES ROBERTS, Esq., Secretary of the Public Record Office. 2 Vols. 1865.

This is a work of great value for elucidating the early history of our nobility and landed gentry.

CHARLES I., preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office. Edited by JOHN BRUCE, Esq., F.S.A.; and WILLIAM DOUGLAS HAMILTON, F.S.A. 1871.

Vol. XIII.—1638-1639.

This Calendar is in continuation of that of the Domestic State Papers of the reign of James I., and will extend to the Restoration of Charles II. It comprises the first portion of the reign of Charles I., but is in active progress towards completion, presenting notices of a large number of original documents of great value to all inquirers into the history of the period to which it refers. Many of these documents have been hitherto unknown.

PAPERS relating to SCOTLAND, preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office. Edited by MARKHAM JOHN THORPE, Esq. Oxford. 1858.

English Series, of the Reigns of Henry VIII., and Elizabeth, 1509-1589.

Scottish Series, of the Reign of Elizabeth, 1589-1603; and the State Papers of the English Series, 1543-1592; and the State Papers of the Queen of Scots during her Detention in England.

The volumes which relate to Scotland, and embrace the reigns of James VI. and I. The second volume are notices of the State Papers.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS, RELATING TO IRELAND, OF THE REIGNS OF HENRY VIII., MARY, AND ELIZABETH, preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office. Edited by HANS CLAUDE HAMILTON, Esq. London. 1867.

Vol. I.—1509-1573. | Vol. II.—1574-1585.

The volumes above have been published under the editorship of Mr. Hans Claude Hamilton; another volume is in the press.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS, COLONIAL SERIES, preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office, and elsewhere. Edited by W. NOEL SAINSBURY, Esq. London. 1860-1870.

Vol. I.—America and West Indies, 1574-1660.

Vol. II.—East Indies, China, and Japan, 1513-1616.

Vol. III.—East Indies, China, and Japan, 1617-1621.

These volumes include an analysis of early Colonial Papers in the Public Record Office, the India Office, and the British Museum.

CALENDAR OF LETTERS AND PAPERS, FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC, OF THE REIGN OF HENRY VIII., preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office, the British Museum, &c. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. 1862-1870.

Vol. I.—1509-1514.

Vol. II. (in Two Parts)—1515-1518.

Vol. III. (in Two Parts)—1519-1523.

Vol. IV., Part 1.—1524-1526.

These volumes contain summaries of all State Papers and Correspondence relating to the reign of Henry VIII., in the Public Record Office, of those formerly in the State Paper Office, in the British Museum, the Libraries of Oxford and Cambridge, and other Public Libraries; and of all letters that have appeared in print in the works of Burnet, Strype, and others. Whatever authentic original material exists in England relative to the religious, political, parliamentary, or social history of the country during the reign of Henry VIII., whether despatches of ambassadors, or proceedings of the army, navy, treasury, or ordinance, or records of Parliament, appointments of officers, grants from the Crown, &c., will be found calendared in these volumes.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS, FOREIGN SERIES, OF THE REIGN OF EDWARD VI., preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office. 1547-1553. Edited by W. B. TURNBULL, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-Law, and Correspondant du Comité Impérial des Travaux Historiques et des Sociétés Savantes de France. 1861.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS, FOREIGN SERIES, OF THE REIGN OF MARY, preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office. 1553-1558. Edited by W. B. TURNBULL, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-Law, and Correspondant du Comité Impérial des Travaux Historiques et des Sociétés Savantes de France. 1861.

The two preceding volumes exhibit the negotiations of the English ambassador with the courts of the Emperor Charles V. of Germany, of Henry II. of France, and of Philip II. of Spain. The affairs of several of the minor continental states also find various incidental illustrations of much interest.

A valuable series of Papers descriptive of the circumstances which attended the loss of Calais merits a special notice; while the progress of the wars in the north of France, into which England was dragged by her union with Spain, is narrated at some length. The domestic affairs of England are of course passed over in these volumes, which treat only of its relations with foreign powers.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS, FOREIGN SERIES, OF THE REIGN OF ELIZABETH, preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office, &c. Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A., of University College, Durham. 1863-1870.

Vol. I.—1558-1559.

Vol. II.—1559-1560.

Vol. III.—1560-1561.

Vol. IV.—1561-1562.

Vol. V.—1562.

Vol. VI.—1563.

Vol. VII.—1564-1565.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS, FOREIGN SERIES, OF THE REIGN OF ELIZABETH, preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office. Edited by ALLAN JAMES CROSBY, Esq., B.A., Barrister-at-Law. Vol. VIII.—1566-1568. 1871.

These eight volumes contain a Calendar of the Foreign Correspondence during the early portion of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, deposited in the Public Record Office, &c. They illustrate not only the external but also the domestic affairs of Foreign Countries during that period.

CALENDAR OF TREASURY PAPERS, preserved in Her Majesty's Public Record Office. Edited by JOSEPH REDINGTON, Esq. 1868-1871.

Vol. I.—1557-1696.

Vol. II.—1697-1702.

The Papers connected with the administration of the affairs of the Treasury, from 1556-7 to 1702, comprising petitions, reports, and other documents relating to services rendered to the State, grants of money and pensions, appointments to offices, remissions of fines and duties, &c., are calendared in these volumes. They illustrate civil and military events, financial and other matters, the administration in Ireland and the Colonies, &c., and afford information nowhere else recorded.

CALENDAR OF THE CAREW PAPERS, preserved in the Lambeth Library. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London; and WILLIAM BULLEN, Esq. 1867-1871.

Vol. I.—1515-1574.

Vol. II.—1575-1588.

Vol. III.—1589-1600.

Vol. IV.—1601-1603.

Vol. V.—Book of Howth; Miscellaneous.

The Carew Papers relating to Ireland deposited in the Lambeth Library are not only unique in themselves, but are of great importance. Five volumes of the Calendar of these valuable Papers have been published, which cannot fail to be welcome to all students of Irish history. Another volume is in the press.

CALENDAR OF LETTERS, DESPATCHES, AND STATE PAPERS, relating to the Negotiations between England and Spain, preserved in the Archives, at Simancas, and elsewhere. Edited by G. A. BERGENROTH. 1862-1868.

Vol. I.—Hen. VII.—1485-1509.

Vol. II.—Hen. VIII.—1509-1525

Supplement to Vol. I. and Vol. II.

Mr. Bergenroth was engaged in compiling a Calendar of the Papers relating to England preserved in the archives of Simancas in Spain, and the corresponding portion removed from Simancas to Paris. Mr. Bergenroth also visited Madrid, and examined the Papers there, bearing on the reign of Henry VIII. The first volume contains the Spanish Papers of the reign of Henry VII.; the second volume, those of the first portion of the reign of Henry VIII. The Supplement contains new information relating to the private life of Queen Katharine of England; and to the projected marriage of Henry VII. with Queen Juana, widow of King Philip of Castile, and mother of the Emperor Charles V.

CALENDAR OF STATE PAPERS AND MANUSCRIPTS, relating to ENGLISH AFFAIRS, preserved in the Archives of Venice, &c. Edited by RAWDON BROWN, Esq. 1864-1871.

Vol. I.—1202-1509.

Vol. III.—1520-1526.

Vol. II.—1509-1519.

Vol. IV.—1527-1533.

Mr. Rawdon Brown has published four volumes of his Calendar, extending from 1202 to 1533, and has made considerable progress in the fifth volume. Mr. Brown's researches have brought to light a number of valuable documents relating to the various periods of English history, and his contributions to historical literature are of the most interesting and important character.

THE CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS OF GREAT BRITAIN

[ROYAL 8vo., half-bound. Price 10s. each Volume or Part.]

On 25 July 1822, the House of Commons presented an address to the Crown, stating that the editions of the works of our ancient historians were inconvenient and defective; that many of their writings still remained in manuscript, and, in some cases, in a single copy only. They added, "that an uniform and convenient edition of the whole, published under His Majesty's royal sanction, would be an undertaking honourable to His Majesty's reign, and conducive to the advancement of historical and constitutional knowledge; that the House therefore humbly besought His Majesty, that He would be graciously pleased to give such directions as His Majesty, in His wisdom, might think fit, for the publication of a complete edition of the ancient historians of this realm, and assured His Majesty that whatever expense might be necessary for this purpose would be made good."

The Master of the Rolls, being very desirous that effect should be given to the resolution of the House of Commons, submitted to Her Majesty's Treasury in 1857 a plan for the publication of the ancient chronicles and memorials of the United Kingdom, and it was adopted accordingly. In selecting these works, it was considered right, in the first instance, to give preference to those of which the manuscripts were unique, or the materials of which would help to fill up blanks in English history for which no satisfactory and authentic information hitherto existed in any accessible form. One great object the Master of the Rolls had in view was to form a corpus historicum within reasonable limits, and which should be as complete as possible. In a subject of so vast a range, it was important that the historical student should be able to select such volumes as conformed with his own peculiar tastes and studies, and not be put to the expense of purchasing the whole collection; an inconvenience inseparable from any other plan than that which has been in this instance adopted.

Of the Chronicles and Memorials, the following volumes have been published. They embrace the period from the earliest time of British history down to the end of the reign of Henry VII.

1. THE CHRONICLE OF ENGLAND, by JOHN CAINBRATE. Edited by the Rev. F. C. HINGESBURY, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford. 1858.

Cainbrat was prior of Lynn in Norfolk, and provincial of the order of the Friars Hermits of England shortly before the year 1464. His Chronicle extends from the creation of the world to the year 1467. As a record of the language spoken in Norfolk (being written in English), it is of considerable value.

2. CHRONICON MONASTERII DE ABBOTSBURY. Vols. I. and II. Edited by the Rev. JOSHUA SWETSON, M.A., of University College, Durham, and Vicar of Leigham Buzzard. 1858.

This Chronicle traces the history of the great Benedictine monastery of Abbotston in Beckhale, from its foundation by King Ina of Wessex, to the reign of Richard I. shortly after which period the present narrative was drawn up by an inmate of the establishment. The author had access to the title-deeds of the house, and incorporates into his history various charters of the Saxon kings, of great importance as illustrating not only the history of the locality but that of the Kingdom. The work is printed for the first time.

3. LIVES OF EDWARD THE CONFESSOR. I.—La Estoire de Saint Aedward le Roi. II.—Vita Beati Edwardi Regis et Confessoris. III.—Vita Edwardi Regis qui apud Westmonasterium requiescit. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUCAS, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1858.

The first is a poem in Norman French, containing 4,886 lines, addressed to Ailmer, Queen of Henry III, and probably written in the year 1245, on the occasion of the restoration of the church of Westminster. Nothing is known of the author. The second is an anonymous poem, containing 556 lines, written between the years 1440 and 1450, by command of Henry VI., to whom it is dedicated. It does not throw any new light on the reign of Edward the Confessor, but is valuable as a specimen of the Latin poetry of the time. The third, also by an anonymous author, was apparently written for Queen Edith, between the years 1066 and 1074, during the pressure of the suffering brought on the Saxons by the Norman conquest. It notices many facts not found in other writers, and some which differ considerably from the usual accounts.

4. MONUMENTA FRANCISCANA; scilicet, I.—Thomas de Eccleston de Adventu Fratrum Minorum in Angliam. II.—Ada de Marisco Epistola. III.—Registrum Fratrum Minorum Londonie. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. 1858.

This volume contains original materials for the history of the settlement of the order of Saint Francis in England, the letters of Adam de Marisco, and other papers connected with the foundation and diffusion of this great body. It has been the aim of the editor to collect whatever historical information could be found in this country, towards illustrating a period of the national history for which only scanty materials exist. None of these have been before printed.

5. FASCICULI ZIZANIORUM MAGISTRI JOHANNIS WYULF CUM TRITICO. Ascribed to THOMAS NETTER, of WALDEN, Provincial of the Carmelite Order in England, and Confessor to King Henry the Fifth. Edited by the Rev. W. W. SHIRLEY, M.A., Tutor and late Fellow of Wadham College, Oxford. 1858.

This work derives its principal value from being the only contemporaneous account of the rise of the Lollards. When written, the disputes of the school-men had been extended to the field of theology, and they appear both in the writings of Wycliff and in those of his adversaries. Wycliff's little bundles of tares are not less metaphysical than theological, and the conflict between Nominalists and Realists rages side by side with the conflict between the different interpreters of Scripture. The work gives a good idea of the controversies at the end of the 14th and the beginning of the 15th centuries.

6. THE BULK OF THE CRONICLIS OF SCOTLAND ; or, A Metrical Version of the History of Hector Boece ; by WILLIAM STEWART. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by W. B. TURNBULL, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-Law. 1858.

This is a metrical translation of a Latin Prose Chronicle, and was written in the first half of the 16th century. The narrative begins with the earliest legends, and ends with the death of James I. of Scotland, and the "evil ending of the traitors that slew him." Strict accuracy of statement is not to be looked for in such a work as this ; but the stories of the colonization of Spain, Ireland, and Scotland are interesting if not true ; and the chronicle is valuable as a reflection of the manners, sentiments, and character of the age in which it was composed. The peculiarities of the Scottish dialect are well illustrated in this metrical version, and the student of language will find ample materials for comparison with the English dialects of the same period, and with modern lowland Scotch.

7. JOHANNIS CAPGRAVE LIBER DE ILLUSTRIBUS HENRICIS. Edited by the Rev. F. C. HINGESTON, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford. 1858.

This work is dedicated to Henry VI. of England, who appears to have been, in the author's estimation, the greatest of all the Henries. It is divided into three distinct parts, each having its own separate dedication. The first part relates only to the history of the Empire, and extends from the election of Henry I., the Fowler, to the end of the reign of the Emperor Henry VI. The second part is devoted to English history, and extends from the accession of Henry I. in the year 1100, to the year 1446, which was the twenty-fourth year of the reign of King Henry VI. The third part contains the lives of illustrious men who have borne the name of Henry in various parts of the world.

Capgrave was born in 1393, in the reign of Richard II., and lived during the Wars of the Roses, for the history of which period his work is of some value.

8. HISTORIA MONASTERII S. AUGUSTINI CANTUARIENSIS, by THOMAS OF ELMHAM, formerly Monk and Treasurer of that Foundation. Edited by CHARLES HARDWICK, M.A., Fellow of St. Catharine's Hall, and Christian Advocate in the University of Cambridge. 1858.

This history extends from the arrival of St. Augustine in Kent until 1191. Prefixed is a chronology as far as 1418, which shows in outline what was to have been the character of the work when completed. The only copy known is in the possession of Trinity Hall, Cambridge. The author was connected with Norfolk, and most probably with Elmham, whence he derived his name.

9. EULOGIUM (HISTORIARUM SIVE TEMPORIS) : Chronicon ab Orbe condito usque ad Annum Domini 1366 ; a Monacho quodam Malmesbiriensi exaratum. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by F. S. HAYDON, Esq., B.A. 1858-1863.

This is a Latin Chronicle extending from the Creation to the latter part of the reign of Edward III., and written by a monk of the Abbey of Malmesbury, in Wiltshire, about the year 1367. A continuation, carrying the history of England down to the year 1413, was added in the former half of the fifteenth century by an author whose name is not known. The original Chronicle is divided into five books, and contains a history of the world generally, but more especially of England to the year 1366. The continuation extends the history down to the coronation of Henry V. The Eulogium itself is chiefly valuable as containing a history, by a contemporary, of the period between 1356 and 1366. The notices of events appear to have been written very soon after their occurrence. Among other interesting matter, the Chronicle contains a diary of the Poitiers campaign, evidently furnished by some person who accompanied the army of the Black Prince. The continuation of the Chronicle is also the work of a contemporary, and gives a very interesting account of the reigns of Richard II. and Henry IV. It is believed to be the earliest authority for the statement that the latter monarch died in the Jerusalem Chamber at Westminster.

10. MEMORIALS OF HENRY THE SEVENTH: Bernardi Andreæ Tholosatis Vita Regis Henrici Septimi; necnon alia quædam ad eundem Regem spectantia. Edited by JAMES GAIRDNER, Esq. 1858.

The contents of this volume are—(1) a life of Henry VII., by his poet laureate and historiographer, Bernard André, of Toulouse, with some compositions in verse, of which he is supposed to have been the author; (2) the journals of Roger Machado during certain embassies on which he was sent by Henry VII. to Spain and Brittany, the first of which had reference to the marriage of the King's son, Arthur, with Catharine of Arragon; (3) two curious reports by envoys sent to Spain in the year 1505 touching the succession to the Crown of Castile, and a project of marriage between Henry VII. and the Queen of Naples; and (4) an account of Philip of Castile's reception in England in 1506. Other documents of interest in connexion with the period are given in an appendix.

11. MEMORIALS OF HENRY THE FIFTH. I.—Vita Henrici Quinti, Roberto Redmanno auctore. II.—Versus Rhythmici in laudem Regis Henrici Quinti. III.—Elmhami Liber Metricus de Henrico V. Edited by CHARLES A. COLE, Esq. 1858.

This volume contains three treatises which more or less illustrate the history of the reign of Henry V., viz.: A Life by Robert Redman; a Metrical Chronicle by Thomas Elmham, prior of Lenton, a contemporary author; Versus Rhythmici, written apparently by a monk of Westminster Abbey, who was also a contemporary of Henry V. These works are printed for the first time.

12. MUNIMENTA GILDHALLÆ LONDONIENSIS; Liber Albus, Liber Customarum, et Liber Horn, in archivis Gildhallæ asservati. Vol. I., Liber Albus. Vol. II. (in Two Parts), Liber Customarum. Vol. III., Translation of the Anglo-Norman Passages in Liber Albus, Glossaries, Appendices, and Index. Edited by HENRY THOMAS RILEY, Esq., M.A., Barrister-at-Law. 1859–1862.

The manuscript of the Liber Albus, compiled by John Carpenter, Common Clerk of the City of London in the year 1419, a large folio volume, is preserved in the Record Room of the City of London. It gives an account of the laws, regulations, and institutions of that City in the twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, and early part of the fifteenth centuries.

The Liber Customarum was compiled probably by various hands in the early part of the fourteenth century during the reign of Edward II. The manuscript, a folio volume, is also preserved in the Record Room of the City of London, though some portion in its original state, borrowed from the City in the reign of Queen Elizabeth and never returned, forms part of the Cottonian MS. Claudius D. II. in the British Museum. It also gives an account of the laws, regulations, and institutions of the City of London in the twelfth, thirteenth, and early part of the fourteenth centuries.

13. CHRONICA JOHANNIS DE OXENEDES. Edited by Sir HENRY ELLIS, K.H. 1859.

Although this Chronicle tells of the arrival of Hengist and Horsa in England in the year 449, yet it substantially begins with the reign of King Alfred, and comes down to the year 1292, where it ends abruptly. The history is particularly valuable for notices of events in the eastern portions of the kingdom, which are not to be elsewhere obtained, and some curious facts are mentioned relative to the floods in that part of England, which are confirmed in the Friesland Chronicle of Anthony Heinrich, pastor of the Island of Mohr.

14. A COLLECTION OF POLITICAL POEMS AND SONGS RELATING TO ENGLISH HISTORY, FROM THE ACCESSION OF EDWARD III. TO THE REIGN OF HENRY VIII. Vols. I. and II. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq., M.A. 1859-1861.

These Poems are perhaps the most interesting of all the historical writings of the period, though they cannot be relied on for accuracy of statement. They are various in character; some are upon religious subjects, some may be called satires, and some give no more than a court scandal; but as a whole they present a very fair picture of society, and of the relations of the different classes to one another. The period comprised is in itself interesting, and brings us, through the decline of the feudal system, to the beginning of our modern history. The songs in old English are of considerable value to the philologist.

15. The "OPUS TERTIUM," "OPUS MINUS," &c., of ROGER BACON. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. 1859.

This is the celebrated treatise—never before printed—so frequently referred to by the great philosopher in his works. It contains the fullest details we possess of the life and labours of Roger Bacon: also a fragment by the same author, supposed to be unique, the "Compendium Studii Theologiae."

16. BARTHOLOMÆI DE COTTON, MONACHI NORWICENSIS, HISTORIA ANGLICANA; 449-1298: necnon ejusdem Liber de Archiepiscopis et Episcopis Angliæ. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1859.

The author, a monk of Norwich, has here given us a Chronicle of England from the arrival of the Saxons in 449 to the year 1298, in or about which year it appears that he died. The latter portion of this history (the whole of the reign of Edward I. more especially) is of great value, as the writer was contemporary with the events which he records. An Appendix contains several illustrative documents connected with the previous narrative.

17. BRUT Y TYWYSOGION; or, The Chronicle of the Princes of Wales. Edited by the Rev. JOHN WILLIAMS AB ITHEL, M.A. 1860.

This work, also known as "The Chronicle of the Princes of Wales," has been attributed to Caradoc of Llancarvan, who flourished about the middle of the twelfth century. It is written in the ancient Welsh language, begins with the abdication and death of Caedwala at Rome, in the year 681, and continues the history down to the subjugation of Wales by Edward I., about the year 1282.

18. A COLLECTION OF ROYAL AND HISTORICAL LETTERS DURING THE REIGN OF HENRY IV. 1399-1404. Edited by the Rev. F. C. HINGESTON, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford. 1860.

This volume, like all the others in the series containing a miscellaneous selection of letters, is valuable on account of the light it throws upon biographical history, and the familiar view it presents of characters, manners, and events. The period requires much elucidation; to which it will materially contribute.

19. THE REPRESSOR OF OVER MUCH BLAMING OF THE CLERGY. By REGINALD PECOCK, sometime Bishop of Chichester. Vols. I. and II. Edited by CHURCHILL BABINGTON, B.D., Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. 1860.

The "Repressor" may be considered the earliest piece of good theological disquisition of which our English prose literature can boast. The author was born about the end of the fourteenth century, consecrated Bishop of St. Asaph in the year 1444, and translated to the see of Chichester in 1450. While Bishop of St. Asaph, he zealously defended his brother prelates from the attacks of those who censured the bishops for their neglect of duty. He maintained that it was no part of a bishop's functions to appear in the pulpit, and that his time might be more profitably spent, and his dignity better maintained, in the performance of works of a higher character. Among those who thought differently were the Lollards, and against their general doctrines the "Repressor" is directed. Pecock took up a position midway between that of the Roman Church and that of the modern Anglican Church; but his work is interesting chiefly because it gives a full account of the views of the Lollards and of the arguments by which they were supported, and because it assists us to ascertain the state of feeling which ultimately led to the Reformation. Apart from religious matters, the light thrown upon contemporaneous history is very small, but the "Repressor" has great value for the philologist, as it tells us what were the characteristics of the language in use among the cultivated Englishmen of the fifteenth century. Pecock, though an opponent of the Lollards, showed a certain spirit of toleration, for which he received, towards the end of his life, the usual mediæval reward—persecution.

20. ANNALES CAMBRIÆ. Edited by the Rev. JOHN WILLIAMS AB ITHEL, M.A. 1860.

These annals, which are in Latin, commence in the year 447, and come down to the year 1288. The earlier portion appears to be taken from an Irish Chronicle, which was also used by Tigernach, and by the compiler of the Annals of Ulster. During its first century it contains scarcely anything relating to Britain, the earliest direct concurrence with English history is relative to the mission of Augustine. Its notices throughout though brief, are valuable. The annals were probably written at St. Davids, by Blegewryd, Archdeacon of Llandaff, the most learned man in his day in all Cymru.

21. THE WORKS OF GIRALDUS CAMBRENSIS. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. Vols. V. and VI. Edited by the Rev. JAMES F. DIMOCK, M.A., Rector of Barnburgh, Yorkshire. 1861-1868.

The first three volumes contain the historical works of Gerald du Barry, who lived in the reigns of Henry II., Richard I., and John, and attempted to re-establish the independence of Wales by restoring the see of St. Davids to its ancient primacy. His works are of a very miscellaneous nature, both in prose and verse, and are remarkable chiefly for the racy and original anecdotes which they contain relating to contemporaries. He is the only Welsh writer of any importance who has contributed so much to the mediæval literature of this country, or assumed, in consequence of his nationality, so free and independent a tone. His frequent travels in Italy, in France, in Ireland, and in Wales, gave him opportunities for observation which did not generally fall to the lot of mediæval writers in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, and of these observations Giraldus has made due use. Only extracts from these treatises have been printed before, and almost all of them are taken from unique manuscripts.

The Topographia Hibernica (in Vol. V.) is the result of Giraldus' two visits to Ireland. The first in the year 1183, the second in 1185-6, when he accompanied Prince John into that country. Curious as this treatise is, Mr. Dimock is of opinion that it ought not to be accepted as sober truthful history, for Giraldus himself states that truth was not his main object, and that he compiled the work for the purpose of sounding the praises of Henry the Second. Elsewhere, however, he declares that he had stated nothing in the Topographia of the truth of which he was not well assured, either by his own eyesight or by the testimony, with all diligence elicited, of the most trustworthy and authentic men in the country; that though he did not put just the same full faith in their reports as in what he had himself seen, yet, as they only related what they had themselves seen, he could not but believe such credible witnesses. A very interesting portion of this treatise is devoted to the animals of Ireland. It shows that he was a very accurate and acute observer, and his descriptions are given in a way that a scientific naturalist of the present day could hardly improve upon. The Expugnatio Hibernica was written about the year 1188, and may be regarded rather as a great epic than a sober relation of acts occurring in his own days. No one can peruse it without coming to the conclusion that it is rather a poetical fiction than a prosaic truthful history.

Vol. VI. contains the Itinerarium Kambricæ et Descriptio Kambricæ.

22. LETTERS AND PAPERS ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE WARS OF THE ENGLISH IN FRANCE DURING THE REIGN OF HENRY THE SIXTH, KING OF ENGLAND. Vol. I., and Vol. II. (in Two Parts). Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A., of University College, Durham, and Vicar of Leighton Buzzard. 1861-1864.

The letters and papers contained in these volumes are derived chiefly from originals or contemporary copies extant in the Bibliothèque Impériale, and the Dépôt des Archives, in Paris. They illustrate the line of policy adopted by John Duke of Bedford and his successors during their government of Normandy, and such other provinces of France as had been acquired by Henry V. We may here trace, step by step, the gradual declension of the English power, until we are prepared to read of its final overthrow.

23. THE ANGLO-SAXON CHRONICLE, ACCORDING TO THE SEVERAL ORIGINAL AUTHORITIES. Vol. I., Original Texts. Vol. II., Translation. Edited and translated by BENJAMIN THORPE, Esq., Member of the Royal Academy of Sciences at Munich, and of the Society of Netherlandish Literature at Leyden. 1861.

This Chronicle, extending from the earliest history of Britain to the year 1154, is justly the boast of England; for no other nation can produce any history, written in its own vernacular, at all approaching it, either in antiquity, truthfulness, or extent, the historical books of the Bible alone excepted. There are at present six independent manuscripts of the Saxon Chronicle, ending in different years, and written in different parts of the country. In this edition, the text of each manuscript is printed in columns on the same page, so that the student may see at a glance the various changes which occur in orthography, whether arising from locality or age.

24. LETTERS AND PAPERS ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE REIGNS OF RICHARD III. AND HENRY VII. Vols. I. and II. Edited by JAMES GAIRDNER, Esq. 1861-1863.

The Papers are derived from MSS. in the Public Record Office, the British Museum, and other repositories. The period to which they refer is unusually destitute of chronicles and other sources of historical information, so that the light obtained from these documents is of special importance. The principal contents of the volumes are some diplomatic Papers of Richard III.; correspondence between Henry VII. and Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain; documents relating to Edmund de la Pole, Earl of Suffolk; and a portion of the correspondence of James IV. of Scotland.

25. LETTERS OF BISHOP GROSSETESTE, illustrative of the Social Condition of his Time. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1861.

The Letters of Robert Grosseteste (131 in number) are here collected from various sources, and a large portion of them is printed for the first time. They range in date from about 1210 to 1253, and relate to various matters connected not only with the political history of England during the reign of Henry III., but with its ecclesiastical condition. They refer especially to the diocese of Lincoln, of which Grosseteste was bishop.

26. DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE OF MANUSCRIPTS RELATING TO THE HISTORY OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND. Vol. I. (in Two Parts); Anterior to the Norman Invasion. Vol. II.; 1066-1200. Vol. III.; 1200-1327. By Sir THOMAS DUFFUS HARDY, D.C.L., Deputy Keeper of the Public Records. 1862-1871.

The object of this work is to publish notices of all known sources of British history, both printed and unprinted, in one continued sequence. The materials, 10, from MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI. : and a fragment of a Chronicle of the reign of Edward I., 1285 to 1307, from MS. 14 C. I. in the Royal Library.

Volume 11 is a Chronicle of English History, by an anonymous writer, from 1296 to 1296, from MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI. : Annals of Edward II., 1296-1327, by John de Trokelowe, a monk of St. Albans, from MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI. : A continuation of Trokelowe's Annals, 1323, 1324, by Thomas de Blaneфорde, from MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI. : A full Chronicle of English History, by an anonymous writer of St. Albans, 1392 to 1406, from MS. VII. in the Library of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge; and an account of the benefactors of St. Albans, written in the early part of the fifteenth century, from MS. VI. in the same Library.

The fifth, sixth, and seventh volumes contain a history of the Abbots of St. Albans, and of the fortunes and vicissitudes of the house, from 793 to 1411, mainly compiled by Thomas Walsingham, Precentor of the Abbey in the reign of Richard II., and transcribed from MS. Cotton. Claudius E. IV., in the British Museum; with a brief Continuation, extracted from the closing pages of the Parker MS. No. VII., in the Library of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge.

The eighth and ninth volumes, in continuation of the Annals, contain a Chronicle, probably written by John Amundesham, a monk of St. Albans.

9. CHRONICON ABBATIE EVESHAMENSIS, AUCTORIBUS DOMINICO PRIORE EVESHAMENSIS ET THOMA DE MARLEBERGE ABBATE, A FUNDATIONE AD ANNUM 1213, UNA CUM CONTINUATIONE AD ANNUM 1418. Edited by the Rev. W. D. MACRAY, M.A., Bodleian Library, Oxford. 1863.

The Chronicle of Evesham illustrates the history of that important monastery from its foundation by Egwin, about 690, to the year 1418. Its chief feature is an autobiography, which makes us acquainted with the inner daily life of a great abbey, such as but rarely has been recorded. Interspersed are many notices of general, personal, and local history which will be read with much interest. This work exists in a single MS., and is for the first time printed.

10. RICARDI DE CIRENCESTRIA SPECULUM HISTORIALE DE GESTIS REGUM ANGLIE. Vol. I., 447-871. Vol. II., 872-1066. Edited by JOHN E. B. MAYOR, M.A., Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. 1863-1869.

The compiler, Richard of Cirencester, was a monk of Westminster, 1355-1400. In 1391 he obtained a licence to make a pilgrimage to Rome. His history, in four books, extends from 447 to 1066. He announces his intention of continuing it, but there is no evidence that he completed any more. This chronicle gives many charters in favour of Westminster Abbey, and a very full account of the lives and miracles of the saints, especially of Edward the Confessor, whose reign occupies the fourth book. A treatise on the Coronation, by William of Sudbury, a monk of Westminster, fills book iii. c. 3. It was on this author that C. J. Bertram fathered his forgery, De Situ Britannia, in 1747.

11. YEAR BOOKS OF THE REIGN OF EDWARD THE FIRST. Years 20-21, 30-31, and 32-33. Edited and translated by ALFRED JOHN HORWOOD, Esq., of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law. 1863-1866.

The volumes known as the "Year Books" contain reports in Norman-French of cases argued and decided in the Courts of Common Law. They may be considered to a great extent as the "lex non scripta" of England, and have been held in the highest veneration by the ancient sages of the law, and were received by them as the repositories of the first recorded judgments and dicta of the great legal luminaries of past ages. They are also worthy of the attention of the general reader on account of the historical information and the notices of public and private persons which they contain, as well as the light which they throw on ancient manners and customs.

12. NARRATIVES OF THE EXPULSION OF THE ENGLISH FROM NORMANDY, 1449-1450.—Robertus Blondelli de Reductione Normannia: Le Re-

couvrement de Normandie, par Berry, Hérault du Roy : Conférences between the Ambassadors of France and England. Edited, from MSS, in the Imperial Library at Paris, by the Rev. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A., of University College, Durham. 1863.

This volume contains the narrative of an eye-witness who details with considerable power and minuteness the circumstances which attended the final expulsion of the English from Normandy in the year 1450. The history commences with the infringement of the truce by the capture of Fougères, and ends with the battle of Formigny and the embarkation of the Duke of Somerset. The whole period embraced is less than two years.

33. HISTORIA ET CARTULARIUM MONASTERII S. PETRI GLOUCESTRÆ. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by W. H. HART, Esq., F.S.A., Membre correspondant de la Société des Antiquaires de Normandie. 1863-1867.

This work consists of two parts, the History and the Cartulary of the Monastery of St. Peter, Gloucester. The history furnishes an account of the monastery from its foundation, in the year 681, to the early part of the reign of Richard II., together with a calendar of donations and benefactions. It treats principally of the affairs of the monastery, but occasionally matters of general history are introduced. Its authorship has generally been assigned to Walter Froucester, the twentieth abbot, but without any foundation.

34. ALEXANDRI NECKAM DE NATURIS RERUM LIBRI DUO ; with NECKAM'S POEM, DE LAUDIBUS DIVINÆ SAPIENTIÆ. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq., M.A. 1863.

Neckam was a man who devoted himself to science, such as it was in the twelfth century. In the "De Naturis Rerum" are to be found what may be called the rudiments of many sciences mixed up with much error and ignorance. Neckam was not thought infallible, even by his contemporaries, for Roger Bacon remarks of him, "this Alexander in many things wrote what was true and useful; but he neither can nor ought by just title to be reckoned among authorities." Neckam, however, had sufficient independence of thought to differ from some of the schoolmen who in his time considered themselves the only judges of literature. He had his own views in morals, and in giving us a glimpse of them, as well as of his other opinions, he throws much light upon the manners, customs, and general tone of thought prevalent in the twelfth century. The poem entitled "De Laudibus Divinæ Sapientiæ" appears to be a metrical paraphrase or abridgment of the "De Naturis Rerum." It is written in the elegiac metre; and though there are many lines which violate classical rules, it is, as a whole, above the ordinary standard of mediæval Latin.

35. LEECHDOMS, WORTCUNNING, AND STARCRAFT OF EARLY ENGLAND; being a Collection of Documents illustrating the History of Science in this Country before the Norman Conquest. Vols. I., II., and III. Collected and edited by the Rev. T. OSWALD COCKAYNE, M.A., of St. John's College, Cambridge. 1864-1866.

This work illustrates not only the history of science, but the history of superstition. In addition to the information bearing directly upon the medical skill and medical faith of the times, there are many passages which incidentally throw light upon the general mode of life and ordinary diet. The volumes are interesting not only in their scientific, but also in their social aspect. The manuscripts from which they have been printed are valuable to the Anglo-Saxon scholar for the illustrations they afford of Anglo-Saxon orthography.

36. ANNALES MONASTICI. Vol. I. :—Annales de Margan, 1066-1232 ; Annales de Theokesberia, 1066-1263 ; Annales de Burton, 1004-1263. Vol. II. :—Annales Monasterii de Wintonia, 519-1277 ; Annales Monasterii de Waverleia, 1-1291. Vol. III. :—Annales Prioratus de Dun-staplia, 1-1297; Annales Monasterii de Bermundeseia, 1042-1432. Vol. IV. :—Annales Monasterii de Oseneia, 1016-1347; Chronicon vulgo dictum Chronicon Thomæ Wykes, 1066-1289; Annales Prioratus de Wigornia, 1-1377. Vol. V. :—Index and Glossary. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, and Registry of the University, Cambridge. 1864-1869.

The present collection of Monastic Annals embraces all the more important chronicles compiled in religious houses in England during the thirteenth century. These distinct works are ten in number. The extreme period which they embrace ranges from the year 1 to 1432, although they refer more especially to the reigns of John, Henry III., and Edward I. Some of these narratives have already appeared in print, but others are printed for the first time.

7. MAGNA VITA S. HUGONIS EPISCOPI LINCOLNIENSIS. From Manuscripts in the Bodleian Library, Oxford, and the Imperial Library, Paris. Edited by the Rev. JAMES F. DIMOCK, M.A., Rector of Barnburgh, Yorkshire. 1864.

This work contains a number of very curious and interesting incidents, and, being the work of a contemporary, is very valuable, not only as a truthful biography of a celebrated ecclesiastic, but as the work of a man, who, from personal knowledge, gives notices of passing events, as well as of individuals who were then taking active part in public affairs. The author, in all probability, was Adam Abbot of Evesham. He was domestic chaplain and private confessor of Bishop Hugh, and in these capacities was admitted to the closest intimacy. Bishop Hugh was Prior of Witham for 11 years before he became Bishop of Lincoln. His consecration took place on the 21st September 1186; he died on the 16th of November 1200; and was canonized in 1220.

8. CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS OF THE REIGN OF RICHARD THE FIRST. Vol. I. :—ITINERARIUM PEREGRINORUM ET GESTA REGIS RICARDI. Vol. II. :—EPISTOLÆ CANTUARIENSES; the Letters of the Prior and Convent of Christ Church, Canterbury; 1187 to 1199. Edited by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Vicar of Navestock, Essex, and Lambeth Librarian. 1864-1865.

The authorship of the Chronicle in Vol. I., hitherto ascribed to Geoffrey Vinesauf, is now more correctly ascribed to Richard, Canon of the Holy Trinity of London. The narrative extends from 1187 to 1199; but its chief interest consists in the minute and authentic narrative which it furnishes of the exploits of Richard I., from his departure from England in December 1189 to his death in 1199. The author states in his prologue that he was an eye-witness of much that he records; and various incidental circumstances which occur in the course of the narrative confirm this assertion.

The letters in Vol. II., written between 1187 and 1199, are of value as furnishing authentic materials for the history of the ecclesiastical condition of England during the reign of Richard I. They had their origin in a dispute which arose from the attempts of Baldwin and Hubert, archbishops of Canterbury, to found a college of secular canons, a project which gave great umbrage to the monks of Canterbury, who saw in it a design to supplant them in their function of metropolitan chapter. These letters are printed, for the first time, from a MS. belonging to the archiepiscopal library at Lambeth.

9. RECUEIL DES CRONIKES ET ANCHIENNES ISTORIES DE LA GRANT BRETAGNE A PRESENT NOMME ENGLETERRE, par JEHAN DE WAURIN. Vol. I., Albina to 688. Vol. II., 1399-1422. Edited by WILLIAM HARDY, Esq., F.S.A. 1864-1868.
10. A COLLECTION OF THE CHRONICLES AND ANCIENT HISTORIES OF GREAT BRITAIN, NOW CALLED ENGLAND, by JOHN DE WAURIN. Albina to 688.

(Translation of the preceding Vol. I.) Edited and translated by WILLIAM HARDY, Esq., F.S.A. 1864.

This curious chronicle extends from the fabulous period of history down to the return of Edward IV. to England in the year 1471, after the second deposition of Henry VI. The manuscript from which the text of the work is taken is preserved in the Imperial Library at Paris, and is believed to be the only complete and nearly contemporary copy in existence. The work, as originally bound, was comprised in six volumes, since rebound in Morocco in 12 volumes, folio maximo, vellum, and is illustrated with exquisite miniatures, vignettes, and initial letters. It was written towards the end of the fifteenth century, having been expressly executed for Louis de Bruges, Seigneur de la Gruthuyse and Earl of Winchester, from whose cabinet it passed into the library of Louis XII. at Blois.

41. POLYCHRONICON RANULPHI HIGDEN, with Trevisa's Translation. Vols. I. and II. Edited by CHURCHILL BABINGTON, B.D., Senior Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. Vol. III. Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH RAWSON LUMBY, M.A., late Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge. 1865-1871.

This is one of the many mediæval chronicles which assume the character of a history of the world. It begins with the creation, and is brought down to the author's own time, the reign of Edward III. Prefixed to the historical portion, is a chapter devoted to geography, in which is given a description of every known land. To say that the Polychronicon was written in the fourteenth century is to say that it is not free from inaccuracies. It has, however, a value apart from its intrinsic merits. It enables us to form a very fair estimate of the knowledge of history and geography which well-informed readers of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries possessed, for it was then the standard work on general history.

The two English translations, which are printed with the original Latin, afford interesting illustrations of the gradual change of our language, for one was made in the fourteenth century, the other in the fifteenth. The differences between Trevisa's version and that of the unknown writer are often considerable.

42. LE LIVRE DE REIS DE BRITANIE E LE LIVRE DE REIS DE ENGLETERE. Edited by JOHN GLOVER, M.A., Vicar of Brading, Isle of Wight, formerly Librarian of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1865.

These two treatises, though they cannot rank as independent narratives, are nevertheless valuable as careful abstracts of previous historians, especially "Le Livre de Reis de Engleterre." Some various readings are given which are interesting to the philologist as instances of semi-Saxonized French.

It is supposed that Peter of Ickham must have been the author, but no certain conclusion on that point has been arrived at.

43. CHRONICA MONASTERII DE MELSA, AB ANNO 1150 USQUE AD ANNUM 1406. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by EDWARD AUGUSTUS BOND, Esq., Assistant Keeper of the Manuscripts, and Egerton Librarian, British Museum. 1866-1868.

The Abbey of Meaux was a Cistercian house, and the work of its abbot is both curious and valuable. It is a faithful and often minute record of the establishment of a religious community, of its progress in forming an ample revenue, of its struggles to maintain its acquisitions, and of its relations to the governing institutions of the country. In addition to the private affairs of the monastery, some light is thrown upon the public events of the time, which are however kept distinct, and appear at the end of the history of each abbot's administration. The text has been printed from what is said to be the autograph of the original compiler, Thomas de Burton, the nineteenth abbot.

44. MATTHEI PARISIENSIS HISTORIA ANGLORUM, SIVE, UT VULGO DICITUR HISTORIA MINOR. Vols. I., II., and III. 1067-1253. Edited by St

FREDERIC MADDEN, K.H., Keeper of the Department of Manuscripts, British Museum. 1866-1869.

The exact date at which this work was written is, according to the chronicler, 1250. The history is of considerable value as an illustration of the period during which the author lived, and contains a good summary of the events which followed the Conquest. This minor chronicle is, however, based on another work (also written by Matthew Paris) giving fuller details, which has been called the "Historia Major." The chronicle here published, nevertheless, gives some information not to be found in the greater history.

45. LIBER MONASTERII DE HYDA: A CHRONICLE AND CHARTULARY OF HYDE ABBEY, WINCHESTER, 455-1023. Edited, from a Manuscript in the Library of the Earl of Macclesfield, by EDWARD EDWARDS, Esq. 1866.

The "Book of Hyde" is a compilation from much earlier sources, which are usually indicated with considerable care and precision. In many cases, however, the Hyde chronicler appears to correct, to qualify, or to amplify—either from tradition or from sources of information not now discoverable—the statements which, in substance, he adopts. He also mentions, and frequently quotes from, writers whose works are either entirely lost or at present known only by fragments.

There is to be found, in the "Book of Hyde," much information relating to the reign of King Alfred which is not known to exist elsewhere. The volume contains some curious specimens of Anglo-Saxon and Mediæval English.

46. CHRONICON SCOTORUM: A CHRONICLE OF IRISH AFFAIRS, FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO 1135; WITH A SUPPLEMENT, CONTAINING THE EVENTS FROM 1141 TO 1150. Edited, with a Translation, by WILLIAM MAUNSELL HENNESSY, Esq., M.R.I.A. 1866.

There is, in this volume, a legendary account of the peopling of Ireland and of the adventures which befell the various heroes who are said to have been connected with Irish history. The details are, however, very meagre both for this period and for the time when history becomes more authentic. The plan adopted in the chronicle gives the appearance of an accuracy to which the earlier portions of the work cannot have any claim. The succession of events is marked, year by year, from A.M. 1599 to A.D. 1150. The principal events narrated in the later portion of the work are, the invasions of foreigners, and the wars of the Irish among themselves. The text has been printed from a MS. preserved in the library of Trinity College, Dublin, written partly in Latin, partly in Irish.

47. THE CHRONICLE OF PIERRE DE LANGTOFT, IN FRENCH VERSE, FROM THE EARLIEST PERIOD TO THE DEATH OF EDWARD I. Vols. I. and II. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq., M.A. 1866-1868.

It is probable that Pierre de Langtoft was a canon of Bridlington, in Yorkshire, and that he lived in the reign of Edward I., and during a portion of the reign of Edward II. This chronicle is divided into three parts; in the first is an abridgment of Geoffrey of Monmouth's "Historia Britonum," in the second, a history of the Anglo-Saxon and Norman kings, down to the death of Henry III., and in the third a history of the reign of Edward I. The principal object of the work was apparently to show the justice of Edward's Scottish wars. The language is singularly corrupt, and a curious specimen of the French of Yorkshire.

48. THE WAR OF THE GAEDHIL WITH THE GAILL, OR, THE INVASIONS OF IRELAND BY THE DANES AND OTHER NORSEMEN. Edited, with a Translation, by JAMES HENTHORN TODD, D.D., Senior Fellow of Trinity College, and Regius Professor of Hebrew in the University, Dublin. 1867.

The work in its present form, in the editor's opinion, is a comparatively modern version of an undoubtedly ancient original. That it was compiled from contemporary materials has been proved by curious incidental evidence. It is stated in the account given of the battle of Clontarf that the full tide in Dublin Bay on the day of the battle (23 April 1014) coincided with sunrise; and that the returning tide in the evening aided considerably in the defeat of the Danes. The fact has been verified by astronomical calculations, and the inference is that the author of the chronicle, if not himself an eye-witness, must have derived his information from those who were eye-witnesses. The contents of the work are sufficiently described in its title. The story is told after the manner of the Scandinavian Sagas, with poems and fragments of poems introduced into the prose narrative.

49. GESTA REGIS HENRICI SECUNDI BENEDICTI ABBATIS. THE CHRONICLE OF THE REIGNS OF HENRY II. AND RICHARD I., 1169-1192; known under the name of BENEDICT OF PETERBOROUGH. Vols. I. and II. Edited by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, Oxford, and Lambeth Librarian. 1867.

This chronicle of the reigns of Henry II. and Richard I., known commonly under the name of Benedict of Peterborough, is one of the best existing specimens of a class of historical compositions of the first importance to the student.

50. MUNIMENTA ACADEMICA, OR, DOCUMENTS ILLUSTRATIVE OF ACADEMICAL LIFE AND STUDIES AT OXFORD (in Two Parts). Edited by the Rev. HENRY ANSTEY, M.A., Vicar of St. Wendron, Cornwall, and lately Vice-Principal of St. Mary Hall, Oxford. 1868.

This work will supply materials for a History of 'Academical Life and Studies in the University of Oxford during the 13th, 14th, and 15th centuries.

51. CHRONICA MAGISTRI ROGERI DE HOVEDENE. Vols. I., II., III., and IV. Edited by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford. 1868-1871.

This work has long been justly celebrated, but not thoroughly understood until Mr. Stubbs' edition. The earlier portion, extending from 732 to 1148, appears to be a copy of a compilation made in Northumbria about 1161, to which Hoveden added little. From 1148 to 1169—a very valuable portion of this work—the matter is derived from another source, to which Hoveden appears to have supplied little, and not always judiciously. From 1170 to 1192 is the portion which corresponds with the Chronicle known under the name of Benedict of Peterborough (see No. 49); but it is not a copy, being sometimes an abridgment, at others a paraphrase; occasionally the two works entirely agree; showing that both writers had access to the same materials, but dealt with them differently. From 1192 to 1201 may be said to be wholly Hoveden's work: it is extremely valuable, and an authority of the first importance.

52. WILLELMI MALMESBIRIENSIS MONACHI DE GESTIS PONTIFICUM ANGLORUM LIBRI QUINQUE. Edited, from William of Malmesbury's Autograph MS., by N. E. S. A. HAMILTON, Esq., of the Department of Manuscripts, British Museum. 1870.

William of Malmesbury's "Gesta Pontificum" is the principal foundation of English Ecclesiastical Biography, down to the year 1122. The manuscript which has been followed in this Edition is supposed by Mr. Hamilton to be the author's autograph, containing his latest additions and amendments.

53. HISTORIC AND MUNICIPAL DOCUMENTS OF IRELAND, FROM THE ARCHIVES OF THE CITY OF DUBLIN, &c. 1172-1320. Edited by JOHN T. GILBERT, Esq., F.S.A., Secretary of the Public Record Office of Ireland. 1870.

A collection of original documents, elucidating mainly the history and condition of the municipal, middle, and trading classes under or in relation with the rule of England in Ireland,—a subject hitherto in almost total obscurity. Extending over the first hundred and fifty years of the Anglo-Norman settlement, the series includes charters, municipal laws and regulations, rolls of names of citizens and members of merchant-guilds, lists of commodities and their rates, correspondence, illustrations of relations between ecclesiastics and laity; together with many documents exhibiting the state of Ireland during the presence there of the Scots under Robert and Edward Bruce.

54. THE ANNALS OF LOCH CÉ. A CHRONICLE OF IRISH AFFAIRS, FROM 1014 to 1590. Vols. I. and II. Edited, with a Translation, by WILLIAM MAUNSELL HENNESSY, Esq., M.R.I.A. 1871.

The original of this chronicle has passed under various names. The title of "Annals of Loch Cé" was given to it by Professor O'Curry, on the ground that it was transcribed for Brian Mac Dermot, an Irish chieftain, who resided on an island in Loch-Cé, in the county of Roscommon. It adds much to the materials for the civil and ecclesiastical history of Ireland; and contains many curious references to English and foreign affairs, not noticed in any other chronicle.

55. MONUMENTA JURIDICA. THE BLACK BOOK OF THE ADMIRALTY, WITH AN APPENDIX. Edited by Sir TRAVERS TWISS, Q.C., D.C.L., Her Majesty's Advocate-General. Vol. I. 1871.

This Book contains the ancient ordinances and laws relating to the navy, and was probably compiled for the use of the Lord High Admiral of England. Selden calls it the "jewel of the Admiralty Records." Prynne ascribes to the Black Book the same authority in the Admiralty as the Black and Red Books have in the Court of Exchequer, and most English writers on maritime law recognize its importance.

56. MEMORIALS OF THE REIGN OF HENRY VI. :—OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THOMAS BEKYNTON, SECRETARY TO HENRY VI., AND BISHOP OF BATH AND WELLS. Edited, from a MS. in the Archiepiscopal Library at Lambeth, with an Appendix of Illustrative Documents, by the Rev. GEORGE WILLIAMS, B.D., Vicar of Ringwood, late Fellow of King's College, Cambridge. Vols. I. and II. 1872.

These curious volumes, which are of a very miscellaneous character, were, in all probability, compiled under the immediate direction of Bekynton, and commenced before he had attained to the dignity of the Episcopate. They contain many of the Bishop's own letters, and several written by him in the King's name. Besides these, there are letters sent to himself while he was the Royal Secretary, as well as others addressed to the King. This work will elucidate some obscure points in the history of the nation during the first half of the fifteenth century.

WORKS PUBLISHED IN PHOTOZINCOGRAPHY.

DOMESDAY BOOK, OF THE GREAT SURVEY OF ENGLAND OF WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR, 1086; fac-simile of the Part relating to each county, separately (with a few exceptions of double counties). Photozincographed, by Her Majesty's Command, at the Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton, Colonel SIR HENRY JAMES, R.E., F.R.S., &c., Director. 35 Parts, imperial quarto and demy quarto (1861-1863) boards. Price 4s. 6d. to 1l. 1s. each Part, according to size; or, bound in 2 Vols., 18l.

This important and unique survey of the greater portion of England* is the oldest and most valuable record in the national archives. It was commenced about the year 1084 and finished in 1086. Its compilation was determined upon at Gloucester by William the Conqueror, in council, in order that he might know what was due to him, in the way of tax, from his subjects, and that each at the same time might know what he had to pay. It was compiled as much for their protection as for the benefit of the sovereign. The nobility and people had been grievously distressed at the time by the king bringing over large numbers of French and Bretons, and quartering them on his subjects, "each according to the measure of his land," for the purpose of resisting the invasion of Cnut, King of Denmark, which was apprehended. The commissioners appointed to make the survey were to inquire the name of each place; who held it in the time of King Edward the Confessor; the present possessor; how many hides were in the manor; how many ploughs were in demesne; how many homagers; how many villeins; how many cottars; how many serving men; how many free tenants; how many tenants in socage; how much wood, meadow, and pasture; the number of mills and fish-ponds; what had been added or taken away from the place; what was the gross value in the time of Edward the Confessor; the present value; and how much each free man or soc-man had, and whether any advance could be made in the value. Thus could be ascertained who held the estate in the time of King Edward; who then held it; its value in the time of the late king; and its value as it stood at the formation of the survey. So minute was the survey, that the writer of the contemporary portion of the Saxon Chronicle records, with some asperity—"So very narrowly he caused it to be traced out, that there was not a single hide, nor one virgate of land, nor even, it is shame to tell, though it seemed to him no shame to do, an ox, nor a cow, nor a swine was left, that was not set down."

Domesday Survey is in two parts or volumes. The first, in folio, contains the counties of Bedford, Berks, Bucks, Cambridge, Chester and Lancaster, Cornwall, Derby, Devon, Dorset, Gloucester, Hants, Hereford, Herts, Huntingdon, Kent, Leicester and Rutland, Lincoln, Middlesex, Northampton, Nottingham, Oxford, Salop, Somerset, Stafford, Surrey, Sussex, Warwick, Wilts, Worcester, and York. The second volume, in quarto, contains the counties of Essex, Norfolk, and Suffolk.

Domesday Book was printed verbatim et literatim during the last century, in consequence of an address of the House of Lords to King George III. in 1767. It was not, however, commenced until 1773, and was completed early in 1783. In 1860, Her Majesty's Government, with the concurrence of the Master of the Rolls, determined to apply the art of photozincography to the production of a fac-simile of Domesday Book, under the superintendence of Colonel Sir Henry James, R.E., Director of the Ordnance Survey, Southampton. The fac-simile was completed in 1863.

*For some reason left unexplained, many parts were left unsurveyed; Northumberland, Cumberland, Westmoreland, and Durham, are not described in the survey; nor does Lancashire appear under its proper name; but Furness, and the northern part of Lancashire, as well as the south of Westmoreland, with a part of Cumberland, are included within the West Riding of Yorkshire. That part of Lancashire which lies between the Ribble and Mersey, and which at the time of the survey comprehended six manors is joined to Cheshire. Part of Rutland is described in the counties of Northampton and Lincoln.

FAC-SIMILES of NATIONAL MANUSCRIPTS, from WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR to QUEEN ANNE, selected under the direction of the Master of the Rolls, and Photozincographed, by Command of Her Majesty, by Colonel SIR HENRY JAMES, R.E., Director of the Ordnance Survey. Price, each Part, with translations and notes, double foolscap folio, 16s.

Part I. (William the Conqueror to Henry VII.). 1865.

Part II. (Henry VIII. and Edward VI.). 1866.

Part III. (Mary and Elizabeth). 1867.

Part IV. (James I. to Anne). 1868.

The first Part extends from William the Conqueror to Henry VII., and contains autographs of the kings of England, as well as of many other illustrious personages famous in history, and some interesting charters, letters patent, and state papers. The second Part, for the reigns of Henry VIII. and Edward VI., consists principally of holograph letters and autographs of kings, princes, statesmen, and other persons of great historical interest, who lived during those reigns. The third Part contains similar documents for the reigns of Mary and Elizabeth, including a signed bill of Lady Jane Grey. The fourth Part concludes the series, and comprises a number of documents taken from the originals belonging to the Constable of the Tower of London; also several records illustrative of the Gunpowder Plot, and a woodcut containing portraits of Mary Queen of Scots and James VI., circulated by their adherents in England, 1580-3.
